Marines Raid Red Viet Nam Training Camp

211 of Enemy Die In Double Action By Leathernecks

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — U.S. Marines fought their way into a Communist troop training camp 20 miles southwest of Da Nang today while others, farther north, battled a force of North Vietnamese regulars. The Americans were reported to have killed 211 of the enemy. Their own casualties were termed light.

Several hundred Leathernecks attacked the training camp, where guerrillas and North Vietnamese army men mingled. A spokesman estimated the enemy totaled about a battalion — perhaps 600 men — and said the Communist fire was extremely heavy.

A radio report from Lt. Col. Victor Ohanesian of New York City said his men burned 10 buildings and destroyed a large store of rice at the camp. A large cave and tunnel complex was uncovered.

The Marines counted 44 Communist dead.

The other action developed in a hunt for Communists along infiltration routes south of the demilitarized zone between North and South Viet Nam. Marines fought a heavy 12-hour battle with North Vietnamese troops overnight.

U.S. spokesmen said 17 of the enemy died in this fight and about 150 others were killed from a detachment of 250 spotted pulling away from the combat area this morning.

October Training Start Slated for Draft Rejects

WASHINGTON (AP) — The armed forces will embark in October on a special training effort designed to bring up to required military standards many poorly educated or physically deficient youths.

The Pentagon provided this starting date and listed the training bases for the program Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara envisioned Tuesday as an aid to the services as well as a benefit to American society.

Men ordinarily disqualified for military service will undergo what the Pentagon described as "supplementary or intensified training" to bring them up to minimum standards.

Southwest Is Deluged By Floods

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Silt-laden flood waters ebbed slowly today from damaged homes and devastated farms but there was a threat of still more rain in neighboring sectors of far West Texas and southeast New Mexico.

Army helicopters brought food, drinking water and medicines Tuesday to residents forced from homes at nearly marooned Dell City, Tex., 92 miles east of El Paso.

The helicopters, from Ft. Bliss in El Paso, also made relief flights to the Carlsbad, N.M., vicinity.

Deluges estimated at 11 inches since Monday at Dell City and 8 inches in Carlsbad Caverns National Park set off the crop-destroying floods.

While the muddy waters were receding, Weather Bureau observers said there was a 50 per cent chance of thundershowers in at least part of the affected area.

Some of them contend they have been forced to tackle walls of red tape and bureaucratic indifference in carrying the load.

LBJ Appeals to Labor, Capital Price, Pay Curbs Sought

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson appealed anew to capital and labor today to keep wage and price rises "within reasonable bounds."

At a news conference held in his office and carried to the nation by radio the President said: "I recognize that problems are bound to arise in a period of full employment."

He said that since 1960, prices have risen 10 per cent, wages 17 per cent and profits 83 per cent.

"We want to keep them all stable as possible," he said.

And he added "we are hoping we can appeal" for restraint, both to those who set wage demands and those who set prices.

Johnson said the inflationary rise has been much less than some other countries. He asserted that recently he was talking to "the distinguished leader" of an unnamed country who expressed the wish that he could keep inflation in his country down to the levels of the United States.

He noted that he has ordered an inquiry into the rise in medical costs, including doctors' and hospital bills. These, according to the Labor Department, have gone up 3.4 per cent in the past six months.

The questioning also ranged into politics, beginning with a request for his estimate of the "political perspicacity" of former Vice President Richard M. Nixon.

"The people have judged that," Johnson replied.

Nixon, among other things, has been talking about the possibility Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey might be dropped and replaced on the Democratic ticket by Sen. Robert F. Kenedy of New York.

Johnson was asked whether he had an explanation for a poll, which, the questioner said, indicated Democrats would rather have Kennedy as the 1968 presidential nominee than Johnson.

Amid laughter, he replied, "No, I have no explanation."

When the questioning turned to the Viet Nam war, Johnson said:

"I see no over-all development that would be of significance at this time."

He reiterated he is willing to "go to a conference anywhere that might be helpful," regarding the war.

"We think there's nothing to be gained," he said, "by urging a conference from the house-tops. We're not trying to hard-sell it because it could have the opposite effect."

One questioner noted that the United States is building many permanent type bases in Viet Nam and Thailand, and asked Johnson about the administration contention that the United States doesn't want to stay there.

Guard Alerted For Cicero Fuss

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (AP) — Gov. Otto Kerner said today he will activate the Illinois National Guard this week in preparation for a scheduled march of civil rights demonstrators into Cicero Sunday.

Gov. Kerner said he probably will issue an executive order Friday to move the troops onto the street Saturday or Sunday night.

Kerner did not say how many troops would be activated.

The governor made the announcement after a meeting with Cicero officials, Sheriff Richard Ogilvie of Cook County, and National Guard commanders.

Kerner said he was told Cicero does not have an adequate number of policemen to maintain order.

Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. has said civil rights marchers will move into Cicero, considered the most hostile all-white community in the Chicago area, Sunday.

Cicero, the headquarters of the old Al Capone gang during the Prohibition era, was the scene of intense rioting in 1951 when a Negro family rented an apartment.

Tuesday night a force of 200 civil rights demonstrators dodged stones, bricks and bottles in a Chicago Southeast neighborhood.

The open-housing demonstration in the city's South Deering area was witnessed by 1,500 shouting, angry white persons who stood along the tree-lined residential streets and threatened the comparatively small parade.

King, who led 500 persons into the area Sunday, was not in Tuesday night's demonstration.

Leaders of the Chicago Freedom Movement announced a march would be held today in the West Elsdon area, an all white neighborhood adjacent to Gage Park on the Southwest Side where some of the most violent white reaction to the demonstrations has occurred this summer.

A force of 450 blue-helmeted police formed a cordon around the demonstrators and effectively kept violent action in

Area Youth Lost While Water Skiing

An initial try at water skiing ended in tragedy Tuesday for David Poole Zeimer, 16, Stoutsville.

The youngster, son of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Zeimer, was vacationing with his family and relatives at Ocean View, near Norfolk, Va.

According to relatives, young Zeimer fell off his skis 600 yards from shore. He disappeared before the boat towing him could return to pick him up.

The body had not been found as of early today, although an extensive search reportedly was under way. Mrs. David Olney, 1035 Mulberry Road, aunt of the youth, said a Coast Guard report this morning indicated the search was delayed due to currents of the Atlantic. Search for the body was to resume later today.

THE 16-YEAR-OLD would have been a senior at Amanda-Clearcreek High School next month.

Survivors, in addition to the parents, include four sisters, Phyllis, Laverne, Donna Gale and Teresa Zeimer, all of the home; two brothers, Wayne and Donald Jr., also of the residence; paternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. O. H. Zeimer, Stoutsville; and maternal grandparents, whom the local family was visiting, Mr. and Mrs. Melburn Jernigan, Norfolk, Va.

Fort Wayne Blast Debris Is Sifted

FORT WAYNE, Ind. (AP) — Giant cranes clawed at the rubble of a wire factory's executive building today in search of three bodies believed buried by a massive explosion.

Two bodies were removed after the blast Tuesday. Officials of the Phelps-Dodge Copper Products Corp. said they were certain the death toll would not exceed five.

Unofficial estimates of the loss were more than $5 million.

Two persons aiding in rescue operations were stricken with fatal heart attacks.

Eighteen persons were injured, three of them critically. Most of the building's 90 employees had left for lunch shortly before the explosion tore into the midsection of the two-story structure.

Earl Smith, 45, manager of the firm's organic research laboratory was believed climbing the stairs to attend an executive luncheon when the explosion occurred. He was presumed dead.

Eight other executives scheduled to attend the luncheon had not gathered in the upstairs dining room.

Some employees had complained in the morning of a gas odor, and two women became nauseated, authorities reported.

All Teaching Posts Filled

Instructor Shortage Is Not Felt Here

Fritz Jacobs, city superintendent of schools, announced today that all teaching posts within the system have been filled.

Jacobs said Circleville public schools will not feel effects of the teacher shortage when school opens next month. However, this is not the case in many systems within the state.

The administrator and board of education were concerned earlier in the year about the teacher shortage. But all vacancies now have been filled through a concentrated effort.

School heads note that thousands of teachers leave Ohio teaching posts every year to accept positions in other states where salary schedules are higher. Others leave their chosen field to work in industry for the same reason.

ONE PRIME example occurred here recently. A speech and hearing therapist left the city schools' payroll for an industrial position. The system has not been able to fill the vacancy since.

School board members, working closely with the superintendent, said they will continue to make every effort to maintain the current standards of the educational system here.

The administration has noted there is no assurance city schools will be able to keep a full staff of teaching personnel for the 1967-68 term.

Big VFW Parade Lasts For Over Six Hours

NEW YORK (AP) — Thousands stepped off down Fifth Avenue at dusk Tuesday night in the annual Veterans of Foreign War parade. At midnight, they were still marching and telephones were angrily jangling in police stations and City Hall.

Alaska Governor Wins in Primary

ANCHORAGE, Alaska (AP) — Anchorage attorney Wendell P. Kay conceded defeat early today in his bid for the Alaska Democratic gubernatorial nomination.

With 250 of 402 precincts in the state counted, Kay trailed Gov. William A. Egan by about 5,000 votes. The count was 12,011 to 7,138.

Anchorage hotel man Walter J. Hieckel pulled well ahead in the Republican gubernatorial nomination with 6,390 votes against 2,625 for another Anchorage hotel executive, Bruce Kendall, and 2,360 for Mike Stepanovich, one time territorial governor.

Half of U.S. Kids Never See Dentist

WASHINGTON (AP) — About half the children in this country under 15 years of age have never been to a dentist, the Children's Bureau said today.

With this finding of recent health studies in mind, the bureau has prepared a new booklet, "The Care of Your Children's Teeth," as part of an expanded program to give increased attention to good dental care for children.

The bureau said the booklet is designed to remind parents to be sure that their children begin brushing their teeth at about the age of 2. It also is suggested that a child's first visit to a dentist should be a friendly one, before an emergency arises.

Sailor, 72, To Try Again To Cross Sea

NEW YORK (AP) — Capt. William Willis, the 72-year-old mariner who was stricken with a hernia as he attempted to cross the Atlantic alone in an 11-foot sailboat, says he is going to try again.

Willis, who flew into New York Tuesday, said he had suffered the hernia a month before he was rescued by a Coast Guard cutter about 1,000 miles east of Newfoundland.

"I was as helpless as a kitten," he said. "Sometimes I had to nail myself under canvas to prevent being thrown into the sea during storms."

His radio failed him, he said, but he finally caught the attention of a passing vessel "by waving and shouting like a madman."

Willis, who set out from New York June 22 hoping to reach Plymouth, England, arrived from Saint John, N.B., where the cutter took him, and was welcomed with a tearful embrace by his wife.

The sailor said he was still in pain, but he did not know if he would undergo surgery until he consulted with his doctor.

He did know he wasn't going to give up. "I am going to try again as soon as I recover," he said.

West Germany Crisis Develops

BONN, Germany (AP) — The growing row between West German military and political leaders took on crisis proportions today as a third general asked to be retired.

A Defense Ministry spokesman disclosed that Maj. Gen. Guenther Paper, commander of the Third Military Region, has asked to be relieved of his command because he disagreed with a Defense Ministry decision allowing servicemen to join a labor union.

The row threatened to topple Defense Minister Kai-Uwe von Hassel and reach into the office of Chancellor Ludwig Erhard.

The dispute took on new urgency Tuesday as Gen. Heinz Trettner, 58, commander in chief of the armed forces, asked to be retired, saying he objected to Von Hassel's decision of Aug. 2 to allow soldiers, airmen and sailors to join the Public Services and Transport Workers Union.

The disclosure by the Defense Ministry of Trettner's request came a day after the ministry suspended the air force chief, Lt. Gen. Werner Panitzki, for criticizing the government and its purchase of the air force's crash-prone F104G Starfighters. Panitzki charged the plane purchase was inspired by politicians and said the Defense Ministry needed to be reorganized.

German political observers viewed the row swirling around the two generals as a crucial clash between the military and ruling politicians, who have made great efforts to keep the 430,000 member armed forces under their control since the country was allowed to rearm in the middle '50s.

"When, of the four most important generals, two handed in their resignation in protest against the attitude of their

Pete the Collie Expected To Get Another 'Trial'

NEW YORK (AP) — The city is having second thoughts about Pete the collie, the dog it said must die for nipping one neighbor too many.

Pets, like people, should be able to confront their accusers, a city corporation counsel argued Tuesday. Pete, he said, never saw his.

The city asked for an order returnable today in State Supreme Court that would send the case back to the Department of Health for new hearings and give Pete a chance to prove he is playful, not predatory.

The department had ruled earlier that the 2-year-old collie must be destroyed under state law as a vicious dog. Three bites is the limit set by the statute.

The collie's owner, William Jones, 17, says Pete is just a happy, lively dog who likes people. He contends there is no proof he actually bit anyone. Asst. Corp. Counsel Irving Gerstman requested in his petition that Pete's case be returned to the Department of Health "with full right to cross-examination and representation by counsel." The department has already agreed to hold new hearings.

Pete was saved last week when State Supreme Court Justice Daniel J. Fitzpatrick issued a temporary stay after Jones, backed by a lawyer and a group of placard-waving supporters, went to fight the death order.

Jones said all Pete would do was clamp his mouth around somebody's arm or hand — a show of affection, rather than a full-fledged bite.

Pete is spending his days at an animal shelter run by the Society for the Prevention for Cruelty to Animals.

His young master says he looks unhappy.

ONE PRIME example occurred here recently. A speech and hearing therapist left the city schools' payroll for an industrial position. The system has not been able to fill the vacancy since.

School board members, working closely with the superintendent, said they will continue to make every effort to maintain the current standards of the educational system here.

Pickaway Sheriff's Office Presses Search for 2 Men

The Pickaway County Sheriff's Department is searching for two men believed involved in an attempt to burglarize a house.

The men also allegedly threatened four young children with harm if they told of the incident. Reporting the attempt was Mrs. Dean Haller of Route 3, Mt. Sterling.

Mrs. Haller told the sheriff she left home Tuesday morning to come to Circleville, leaving her three daughters and a nephew.

While she was gone, one of her daughters saw a strange man at the front door carrying a walkie talkie type radio. The youngster said another man was sitting in a panel truck with a similar device.

SHE SAID later she saw a man in the shrubbery near the house with a stocking pulled over his head.

The man asked for food, according to the story told by the children. When they refused to admit him he slashed the screen with a knife. They began screaming, and he left, but not until he threatened them if they told anything about the incident.

Mrs. Haller said she had been home several hours before the children became brave enough to tell her of the incident.

The children described the truck as a rust and white colored foreign panel model. Neighbors verified the description of the truck and said they hear the children yelling but thought nothing of it at the time.

Deputy Charles Jones investigated.

News Briefs

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — State Treasurer John D. Herbert today reported sales and use tax collections for this fiscal year through Aug. 20 totaled $56.8 million, an increase of $3.3 million over the corresponding period of last year.

Herbert also reported an increase in highway use tax collections from $5.8 million last year to $6.2 million in the same period—July 1 - Aug. 20—this year.

KARACHI, Pakistan (AP) — Leaders of four Pakistani political parties have cabled Egyptian President Gamal Abdel Nasser asking mercy for seven Moslem Brotherhood leaders sentenced to death for conspiring to assassinate him.

The leaders of the Jammat Islami, Nizam Islam Council, Moslem League and Awami League also cabled heads of all Moslem states Tuesday night asking them to issue similar appeals to Nasser.

MOSCOW (AP) — U.S. Communist party leader Gus Hall said today his party is playing a leading role in American left-wing student organizations.

The Soviet Communist party paper Pravda quoted Hall in an interview here as saying "our party is the main force in the left-wing movement" and that "it is the most influential of the left-wing organizations, including youth organizations."

Hall said in an earlier interview that one of these leftist youth groups, the DuBois Clubs, openly espoused Marxist-Leninist Communist theory.

"Naturally," he said, "the closest ties we have are with the DuBois Clubs since they occupy Marxist positions. Many of the DuBois Clubs members have joined our party."

MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviet Union has denied it is trying to split up turbulent Nigeria on a tribal basis and counter-charged that "imperialist powers" are trying to do so.

An official Tass statement issued Tuesday didn't say specifically who made the charges of Soviet splitting activities except to say vaguely they came from "the Western press and certain Nigerian circles connected with the imperialist powers."

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa (AP) — A top - secret "fighting fund" has been established by the South African government to ensure the country is never without at least 18 months' fuel supplies, Johannesburg's antigovernment newspaper, the Rand Daily Mail, reported today.

The newspaper said money collected so far had topped the $14-million mark.

The paper's industrial correspondent reported the fund will be used to buy gasoline and crude oil supplies and to build a network of storage tanks.

LOS ANGELES (AP) — "I'm the original lady in black, whether anybody likes it or not," said Ditra Flame, placing a red rose near Rudolph Valentino's crypt.

The lady in black was wearing baby blue Tuesday on the 40th anniversary of Valentino's death.

"I've been to every single anniversary," said Miss Flame, who formerly dressed in black, carried a basket of roses and arrived at the crypt in a black limousine.

"But in 1954 the thing got out of hand — people started coming in wild costumes — so I started visiting the crypt the night before."

BOSTON (AP) — Richard Cardinal Cushing, Roman Catholic archbishop of Boston, is going to a birthday party today — his own. He is 71.

The party will be at the Joseph P. Kennedy Jr. Memorial Hospital. About 100 children are expected to join the cardinal for cake and ice cream.

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Mrs. Tak Woo's problem with her car is mushrooming.

She said Tuesday she didn't know whether to take it to a mechanic or a gardener when she found a crop of brown and white mushrooms sprouting from the floor matting.

She decided on a mechanic who said, "It looks like there may be a leak in the air conditioner which makes the carpet damp."

And if repairing the air conditioner doesn't do it?

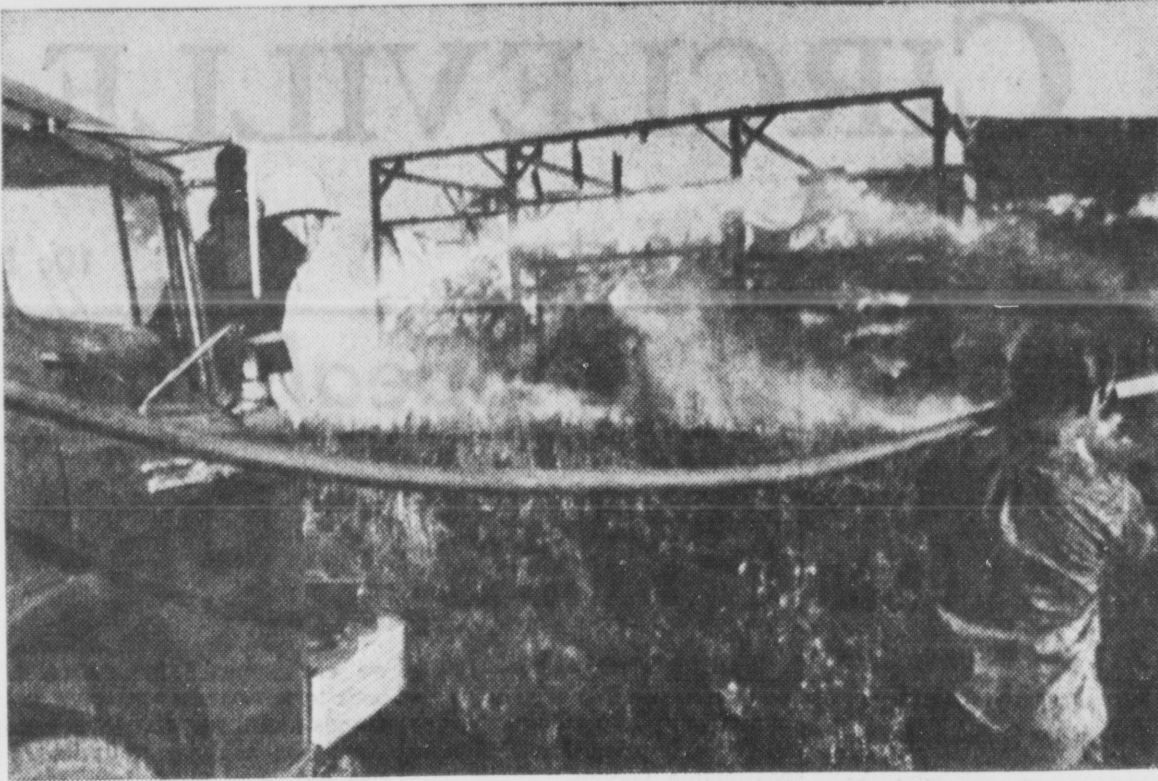

"I'm on my third crop," says Mrs. Woo. "If only I could be sure they were edible."

BENTON HARBOR, Mich. (AP) — Lee Emmanuel, 6, was worried after he pulled the trigger of a shotgun locked in a special clamp in a police car, blasting a hole in the car roof.

"I hope I didn't kill God," the boy said.

Lee was among a group of children touring the Benton Harbor police station Monday. Nobody was injured in the incident.

BARN AND HAY DESTROYED — This barn containing 15 tons of hay was leveled Tuesday afternoon on a vacant farm near Williamsport. The structure was located on a vacant farm owned by Lena and Grace Schein and operated by Paul and Howard Schein. Arson, at first suspected as the cause, was ruled out today after inspection by the state fire marshal's office. Here two Williamsport Volunteers contain the fire by dousing grass around the barn.

Fire Destroys Barn, Hay On Farm Near Williamsport

Fire Tuesday afternoon leveled a barn filled with hay on a vacant farm owned by Lena and Grace Schein, two miles northeast of Williamsport on the Keyes Road.

Cause of the fire was undetermined.

Approximately 15 tons of hay were destroyed along with the barn. The Williamsport Volunteer fire Department, answered the alarm.

Warren Wright, chief of the volunteers, said there was no reason to believe that arson was the cause of the blaze.

Flames destroyed the 24 by 45 foot structure loaded with hay. The blaze was confined to the building and contents by the firefighters.

Both the barn and hay were insured, according to local sheriff's officers who also were at the scene.

"You can't make a man believe what he doesn't want to believe," he said, adding that once the Viet Cong try to quit "gobbling up their neighbor, we will, as we did in the Dominican Republic, come home."

Johnson dealt also with these other subjects:

Cities—"We can afford what must be done" in rebuilding efforts, Johnson said. "This administration has done more than any administration in history," he said.

He said the federal government has doubled the Republican administration spending for the cities.

Judge Sterling M. Lamb fined Sunderhaus $200 and costs, sentenced him to three days in the County Jail and ordered his driving rights suspended for six months.

Marvin Wilson, 19, Stoutsville, appeared in court today on a charge of driving left of center. Cited by Sheriff Dwight Radcliff following an accident in which the driver of the other car, Wanda Brumfield, sustained a slight back injury, he pleaded guilty and was fined $25 and costs by the judge.

In Tuesday court action, Roger N. Fausnaugh, 23, Stoutsville, was fined $100 and costs and sentenced to 30 days in the county jail. He was involved in an accident Aug. 14 in Circleville and was cited by city officers.

John William Neuding, 39, of 514 Elm Ave., was fined $50 and costs for operating a car with license plates registered to another vehicle.

Harold R. Boyer, Williamsport, forfeited a $90 bond for reckless operation.

Edgel McNichols, 50, Columbus, was fined $50 and costs for reckless operation.

Earl Clark Jr., 38, Columbus, forfeited a $40 bond for speeding 80 miles per hour in a 60 mile zone.

Stanley Wakefield, 43, Columbus, forfeited a $19 bond for speeding 70 miles per hour in a 60 mile zone.

Michigan Attorney Battles 'Underworld'

DETROIT (AP) — Michigan Atty. Gen. Frank Kelley told a news conference Tuesday that State Police are investigating threats against his life by "underworld forces."

The attorney general petitioned this month for grand juries to investigate his charges of widespread race horse doping and speed entries under assumed ownership at Detroit Race Course and Hazel Park race track.

He said he has not extended to Eisenhower any specific invitation to visit Thailand or anywhere else in Southeast Asia. He said the story apparently originated with a visit a representative of Thailand paid Eisenhower during the former chief executive's recent stay in Walter Reed Army Hospital.

Cambodia—Asked what the government is doing "to improve relations with Cambodia," he said this country has made clear its representatives would be willing to visit that land again.

"We would be very pleased to have Ambassador W. Averil Harriman visit Cambodia," he said, at a date convenient to Harriman and the Cambodian government.

Cambodia called off a planned Harriman visit as an outgrowth of complaints over the bombing of border villages.

Marines Raid

(Continued from Page One) late Tuesday with Communists well entrenched in fortifications and caves in the hills of the Cam Lo River valley, 18 miles west of Dong Ha and five miles south of the demilitarized zone.

The engagement was described as heavy until about dawn today, and then tapered off to light and moderate.

The Marine reconnaissance in force was quickly reinforced with aircraft, artillery and a reaction force of ground troops.

In the air war over North Viet Nam, bad weather forced Air Force and Navy planes to keep to coastal areas Tuesday, where they hammered communications and storage facilities. Eighty-six missions were flown.

Navy A4 Skyhawks pounced on four North Vietnamese torpedo boats discovered hidden among islands in the Tonkin Gulf and sank one, possibly sank a second and badly damaged a third.

Carrier-based Skyhawks also reported sighting three MIG17s during their forays, but the MIGs did not venture close enough for a fight.

The Saigon River channel between the capital city and the South China Sea, where an American freighter laden with war supplies was sunk by a Communist mine Tuesday, was reopened to traffic today.

The ship, the Baton Rouge Victory, rested on the bottom with water up to its maindeck as salvage experts examined the damage to determine whether to unload the cargo or refloat the vessel and tow it to Saigon for unloading.

cial security district manager.

The district manager, with offices in Chillicothe, said senior citizens should sign up for medicare two or three months before they reach the eligibility age.

If they wait until the month they reach 65 or the following three months, their hospital insurance protection under medicare may begin right away. However, Carr said, coverage under the voluntary doctor bill insurance cannot start until months after they sign up for it.

Carr explained that the medicare law provides a seven-month initial enrollment period for the voluntary doctor bill insurance part of the program.

This period begins with the third month before the person is 65, includes the month in which he reaches 65 and ends with the third month thereafter.

"THE best time to enroll," he said, "is one of the three months before a 65th birthday. If enrollment is handled then, protection can start with the month of the 65th birthday. Waiting until that month to sign up will mean the coverage can't start until the following month. And enrollment in one of three months after the month of the 65th birthday can mean a delay of up to three months in the start of insurance protection."

He further explained that failure to sign up during the seven-month initial enrollment period may mean that the individual will have to wait until the next general enrollment period. This is always the last three months of odd-numbered years. Even then, he said, the older person will have to wait until the following July for protection to start and the premium will be 10 per cent higher.

"This matter of a delayed start in protection could have serious consequences if the individual had high medical expenses meanwhile," he pointed out.

The voluntary medical insurance part of medicare covers doctor bills for home, office and hospital visits, surgeons' fees and a wide variety of other medical expenses in and out of the hospital.

Hospital insurance coverage begins with the month a person reaches 65, providing he applies to establish his eligibility no later than 12 months following that month, Carr said. Like social security cash benefits, hospital insurance payments are retroactive up to 12 months. There is no such retroactive payment under the medical insurance

Pickaway Sheriff's Office Presses Search for 2 Men

The Pickaway County Sheriff's Department is searching for two men believed involved in an attempt to burglarize a house.

The men also allegedly threatened four young children with harm if they told of the incident. Reporting the attempt was Mrs. Dean Haller of Route 3, Mt. Sterling.

Mrs. Haller told the sheriff she left home Tuesday morning to come to Circleville, leaving her three daughters and a nephew.

While she was gone, one of her daughters saw a strange man at the front door carrying a walkie talkie type radio. The youngster said another man was sitting in a panel truck with a similar device.

SHE SAID later she saw a man in the shrubbery near the house with a stocking pulled over his head.

The man asked for food, according to the story told by the children. When they refused to admit him he slashed the screen with a knife. They began screaming, and he left, but not until he threatened them if they told anything about the incident.

Mrs. Haller said she had been home several hours before the children became brave enough to tell her of the incident.

The children described the truck as a rust and white colored foreign panel model. Neighbors verified the description of the truck and said they hear the children yelling but thought nothing of it at the time.

Deputy Charles Jones investigated.

The district manager, with offices in Chillicothe, said senior citizens should sign up for medicare two or three months before they reach the eligibility age.

If they wait until the month they reach 65 or the following three months, their hospital insurance protection under medicare may begin right away. However, Carr said, coverage under the voluntary doctor bill insurance cannot start until months after they sign up for it.

Carr explained that the medicare law provides a seven-month initial enrollment period for the voluntary doctor bill insurance part of the program. This period begins with the third month before the person is 65, includes the month in which he reaches 65 and ends with the third month thereafter.

"THE best time to enroll," he said, "is one of the three months before a 65th birthday. If enrollment is handled then, protection can start with the month of the 65th birthday. Waiting until that month to sign up will mean the coverage can't start until the following month. And enrollment in one of three months after the month of the 65th birthday can mean a delay of up to three months in the start of insurance protection."

He further explained that failure to sign up during the seven - month initial enrollment period may mean that the individual will have to wait until the next general enrollment period. This is always the last three months of odd-numbered years. Even then, he said, the older person will have to wait until the following July for protection to start and the premium will be 10 per cent higher.

"This matter of a delayed start in protection could have serious consequences if the individual had high medical expenses meanwhile," he pointed out.

The voluntary medical insurance part of medicare covers doctor bills for home, office and hospital visits, surgeons' fees and a wide variety of other medical expenses in and out of the hospital. Hospital insurance coverage begins with the month a person reaches 65, providing he applies to establish his eligibility no later than 12 months following that month, Carr said.

Like social security cash benefits, hospital insurance payments are retroactive up to 12 months. There is no such retroactive payment under the medical insurance part of medicare.

For people who were 65 or over before Mar. 1, 1966, the medicare law set a general enrollment period that began Sept. 1, 1965, and ended May 31, 1966, during which they could sign up for the voluntary doctor bill insurance to supplement their basic hospital insurance under medicare. Nine out of ten elderly people enrolled for this supplementary protection.

Since May 31, almost 40 per cent of those applying to enroll in the medical insurance applied too late to have their coverage start as soon as they reached 65. About 8 per cent had waited until the month of their 65th birthday; 24 per cent until one of the three months following that month — but still within the 7-month enrollment period. Five per cent did not apply until after the end of their enrollment period and will not have another chance to enroll until the next general enrollment period, Oct. 1, to Dec. 31, 1967.

Cuban Women To Reap Half of Coffee Crop
MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Half of Cuba's coffee crop will be harvested by women, Havana radio said recently. The broadcast monitored here, said a government-sponsored campaign to increase the female farm labor force is progressing satisfactorily.

News Briefs

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — State Treasurer John D. Herbert today reported sales and use tax collections for this fiscal year through Aug. 20 totaled $56.8 million, an increase of $3.3 million over the corresponding period of last year.

Herbert also reported an increase in highway use tax collections from $5.8 million last year to $6.2 million in the same period—July 1 - Aug. 20—this year.

KARACHI, Pakistan (AP) — Leaders of four Pakistani political parties have cabled Egyptian President Gamal Abdel Nasser asking mercy for seven Moslem Brotherhood leaders sentenced to death for conspiring to assassinate him.

The leaders of the Jammat Islami, Nizam Islam Council, Moslem League and Awami League also cabled heads of all Moslem states Tuesday night asking them to issue similar appeals to Nasser.

MOSCOW (AP) — U.S. Communist party leader Gus Hall said today his party is playing a leading role in American left-wing student organizations.

The Soviet Communist party paper Pravda quoted Hall in an interview here as saying "our party is the main force in the left-wing movement" and that "it is the most influential of the left-wing organizations, including youth organizations."

Hall said in an earlier interview that one of these leftist youth groups, the DuBois Clubs, openly espoused Marxist-Leninist Communist theory.

"Naturally," he said, "the closest ties we have are with the DuBois Clubs since they occupy Marxist positions. Many of the DuBois Clubs members have joined our party."

MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviet Union has denied it is trying to split up turbulent Nigeria on a tribal basis and counter-charged that "imperialist powers" are trying to do so.

An official Tass statement issued Tuesday didn't say specifically who made the charges of Soviet splitting activities except to say vaguely they came from "the Western press and certain Nigerian circles connected with the imperialist powers."

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa (AP) — A top - secret "fighting fund" has been established by the South African government to ensure the country is never without at least 18 months' fuel supplies, Johannesburg's antigovernment newspaper, the Rand Daily Mail, reported today.

The newspaper said money collected so far had topped the $14-million mark.

The paper's industrial correspondent reported the fund will be used to buy gasoline and crude oil supplies and to build a network of storage tanks.

LOS ANGELES (AP) — "I'm the original lady in black," whether anybody likes it or not," said Ditra Flame, placing a red rose near Rudolph Valentino's crypt.

The lady in black was wearing baby blue Tuesday on the 40th anniversary of Valentino's death.

"I've been to every single anniversary," said Miss Flame, who formerly dressed in black, carried a basket of roses and arrived at the crypt in a black limousine.

"But in 1954 the thing got out of hand — people started coming in wild costumes — so I started visiting the crypt the night before."

BOSTON (AP) — Richard Cardinal Cushing, Roman Catholic archbishop of Boston, is going to a birthday party today — his own. He is 71.

The party will be at the Joseph P. Kennedy Jr. Memorial Hospital. About 100 children are expected to join the cardinal for cake and ice cream.

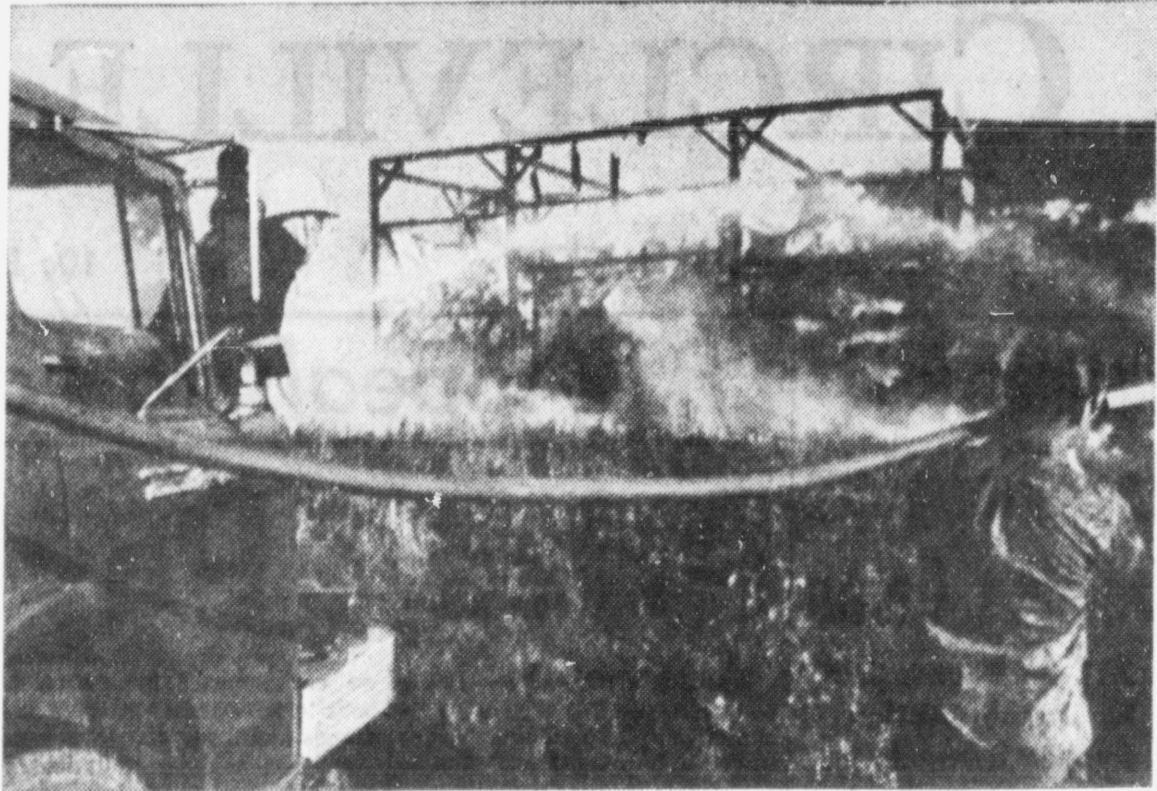

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Mrs. Tak Woo's problem with her car is mushrooming.

She said Tuesday she didn't know whether to take it to a mechanic or a gardener when she found a crop of brown and white mushrooms sprouting from the floor matting.

She decided on a mechanic who said, "It looks like there may be a leak in the air conditioner which makes the carpet damp."

And if repairing the air conditioner doesn't do it?

"I'm on my third crop," says Mrs. Woo. "If only I could be sure they were edible."

BARN AND HAY DESTROYED — This barn containing 15 tons of hay was leveled Tuesday afternoon on a vacant farm near Williamsport. The structure was located on a vacant farm owned by Lena and Grace Schein and operated by Paul and Howard Schein. Arson, at first suspected as the cause, was ruled out today after inspection by the state fire marshal's office. Here two Williamsport Volunteers contain the fire by dousing grass around the barn.

Fire Destroys Barn, Hay On Farm Near Williamsport

Fire Tuesday afternoon leveled a barn filled with hay on a vacant farm owned by Lena and Grace Schein, two miles northeast of Williamsport on the Keyes Road.

Cause of the fire was undetermined.

Approximately 15 tons of hay were destroyed along with the barn. The Williamsport Volunteer fire Department, answered the alarm.

Warren Wright, chief of the volunteers, said there was no reason to believe that arson was the cause of the blaze.

Flames destroyed the 24 by 45 foot structure loaded with hay. The blaze was confined to the building and contents by the firefighters.

Both the barn and hay were insured, according to local sheriff's officers who also were at the scene.

Price, Pay . . .

(Continued from Page One) "I think I have made it as clear as I can that we have no desire to stay in Viet Nam or Thailand," he said. "I have asked that some thought be given to how these bases can be converted to civilian uses."

"You can't make a man believe what he doesn't want to believe," he said, adding that once the Viet Cong try to quit "gobbling up their neighbor, we will, as we did in the Dominican Republic, come home."

Johnson dealt also with these other subjects:

Cities—"We can afford what must be done" in rebuilding efforts, Johnson said. "This administration has done more than any administration in history," he said.

He said the federal government has doubled the Republican administration spending for the cities.

"We are going to concern ourselves with the problems," he said, using such means as demonstration cities, housing and poverty programs, rent supplements and the Teacher Corps.

Johnson said he didn't want to give an exact figure on how much must be spent.

Civil Rights—Johnson was asked if civil rights demonstrations are becoming self-defeating. He said he wanted to say nothing more than his speeches of last weekend, when he called for "a strong dose of self-discipline."

Interest Rates — Johnson noted that the administration has made some recommendations to Congress for ceilings on interest rates.

"So far as the administration telling a banker or loan man how much it can charge, you know it has no such authority," he said.

He said the Federal Reserve Board is independent and has some influence but "the President can't mash a button and say charge more or charge less."

Johnson repeated administration urgings that bankers use "discretion" and selectivity in loans for the public interest.

Eisenhower—Johnson was asked about a report former President Dwight D. Eisenhower has been asked by the White House to make a tour of Southeast Asia.

He said he has not extended to Eisenhower any specific invitation to visit Thailand or anywhere else in Southeast Asia. He said the story apparently originated with a visit a representative of Thailand paid Eisenhower during the former chief executive's recent stay in Walter Reed Army Hospital.

Cambodia—Asked what the government is doing "to improve relations with Cambodia," he said this country has made clear its representatives would be willing to visit that land again.

"We would be very pleased to have Ambassador W. Averell Harriman visit Cambodia," he said, at a date convenient to Harriman and the Cambodian government.

Cambodia called off a planned Harriman visit as an outgrowth of complaints over the bombing of border villages.

Moon Probe

Still another major success has been scored by American space scientists striving to land a man on the moon by 1970.

Lunar Orbiter I was placed in almost perfect trajectory around the moon, preparatory to filming nine potential landing sites along a 3,000-mile strip of lunar wasteland. The Russians previously had orbited the moon but with a less sophisticated vehicle that lacked television cameras. Orbiter's pictures are an important new "first."

Even without the pictures, valuable experience has been gained. The technical equipment needed to guide an unmanned satellite into a desired position 238,857 miles beyond the earth has proved itself on the first test. Perhaps even more important, the myriad mental calculations based on what virtually amounted to only theoretical analyses of the moon's gravity also proved correct.

It would be hard to imagine a more complicated test of man's ingenuity. The capability of the human mind to cope with challenges never ceases to amaze.

The Business World

NEW YORK (AP) — The plunge of the stock market has been called a crisis in investor confidence. The drop of the Dow-Jones Industrial average below the 800 mark could be a psychological setback. That's because stock market watchers—whether shareholders or not—put faith in these neat round numbers.

It does little good to tell the general public that Monday's drop of 12.59 points in the index of 30 leading industrial stocks is not an average drop of $12.59 per share by any means, but less than $1.25. Nor will the public turn to other indexes tailored to come closer to actual dollar values in recording upswings and downturns.

What the public notes is that just six months ago the Dow industrial was pushing close to a fantastic figure of 1,000 and has now dropped more than 200 points—somewhat mysteriously, since business statistics continue to climb. The long flirtation for the Dow industrials with the 800 mark—first on the up tick in the earlier years, and now on the downswing—captured public fancy.

It was Feb. 28, 1964, that the Dow industrial index finally closed above the 800 mark for the first time, after repeated near-misses. And from then until this spring the bulls had things pretty much their way with the Dow going to 995.15 on Feb. 9 this year. But they couldn't push the Dow to the mystic 1,000 point, despite general public expectation. And the bears have finally shoved it below 800.

What the public will note about the behavior of the Dow industrial average Monday was that the 12.59 point plunge wasn't just a tilt caused by one or two weak sisters. Of the 30 stocks on the index, 20 hit new low prices for the year. And the other 10 were well below their record highs.

How the small investor and the general public reacts will be watched closely.

The market professionals also watch the Dow's performance, but with a difference. Many are now saying that technically the market seems oversold. And the big drop, along with heavier trading, may be setting a base from which at least a temporary recovery can be expected.

Investor confidence has been shaken since spring by the many uncertainties clouding the future trend of the economy. But of late the big bearish element has been tight money. This has pinched the home building industry, may have contributed to the drop in auto sales, and clouds prospects for future corporate profits.

With interest rates at the highest point in 40 years, investors are turning to opportunities offering bigger returns with less risk than do most common stocks. And the difficulties investors have in guessing the course of the Viet Nam war makes stock buying less attractive.

The upward surge in labor's wage demands casts a shadow on the future of corporate profit margins. The fear of increases on corporate earnings after the election adds to the bears' array of talking points.

And now there's the new dramatization of the market dropping below the 800 mark, after its disappointing inability to reach 1,000.

Wall Street will be glad when the summer's over.

RHODE ISLAND'S Theodore Francis Green, who died recently at the age of 98, was still active in the U.S. Senate only six years before—a genial, jaunty, humor-loving, conscientious politician who believed in giving his constituents a square deal. Senator Green was still playing tennis at 88, and flirting with pretty girls at 94. He loved parties. At one Washington cocktail soiree, his hostess caught him leafing hurriedly through his date book. "Ah, Senator," she chided. "Trying to find out where you're due next, eh?" "Not at all," replied Senator Green. "I'm trying to find out where I am now."

If you expect to drive a car in England, warns an Indianapolis legislator just back from London, driving on the "wrong" side of the road is not the only thing you'll have to remember. England's signs language differs from ours. For example, "EXIT" is "WAY OUT"; "WATCH FOR FALLEN ROCK" is "LOOSE CLIPPINGS"; "DIVIDED HIGHWAY" is "DUAL CARRIAGEWAY"; "OVERPASS" is "FLYOVER"; "ROAD SHOULDER" is "VERGE"; "UNDER REPAIR" is "ROAD UP," and "DETOUR" is "DIVERSION."

Maybe you'll see more of the countryside if you travel by rail or bus!

When it comes to sudden, unscheduled and illegal changes of government, Latin America is easily the world champion. They've been 37 coups down there since 1950. That's enough to give anyone the shakes.

The Dominican Republic and Venezuela seem most coup-minded, with four apiece. At least, that was according to last count—yesterday.

Rome's famed Borghese Gardens reports that the heads of five of the fine statues which adorn the place have been stolen. The vandals who took 'em must have rocks in their own.

The greatest vanishing act in American history must be accredited to the street car. In 1942—just 24 years ago—there were still 25,000 of 'em!

Statistics show that lipstick used by American women in a single year would paint 40,000 barns a bright red. Amazing—but what of it?—who wants to make a barn glamorous?

How long does the allergy season last?

Allergy is an all year round nuisance. There are some who sneeze, itch and are miserable in the early spring and summer. Others get their first taste of the miseries in the fall.

These are seasonal allergies caused by grasses, weeds, goldenrod, ragweed and almost every type of plant, tree and flower. These are all classed under the general term "hay fever."

The duration and the severity of the discomforting symptoms depend entirely on the degree of sensitivity of the allergic person.

Some people have marked congestion of the nose with profuse, thin watery discharge from the nose and the eyes. Some may even have more severe evidence of allergy like asthma, hives, migraine and eczema.

The duration of these symptoms depend on the geographic part of the country and the activity of the pollen in that region. In most instances, in northern climates, the allergy season usually lasts from mid-summer until about November 1st.

When a person is known to be allergic to a specific grass or weed, after having been skin tested for sensitivity, early injections often reduce the distress of the symptoms.

The exact time for desensitization depends on the judgment of the physician. There are pre-seasonal treatments which are somewhat more effective than those that are started after the hay fever season has begun.

Antihistamine drugs are remarkably effective in many instances and relieve the nasal symptoms. It should be noted that some of these drugs can cause rather severe drowsiness.

There are dozens of anti-allergy drugs, all made with a slightly different chemical ingredient. There is only one way to learn which drug causes the least drowsiness since all people react differently to the same drug.

Try taking the drug for a short while. If it accomplishes its purpose continue with it until the allergy season is over. Allergy drugs work best if they are taken regularly and for a sustained period of time.

Many people have learned by past experience when their symptoms are most severe. They try to avoid the area where the offending pollens are most prevalent. Every state offers information that can be helpful in finding a place free from the pollens that produce the allergic symptoms.

Is surgery the only way to stop repeated nose bleeds?

Surgery for nose bleeds is rarely performed. It is reserved only for special conditions of marked severity. These occur perhaps once in 100,000 cases of nose bleeds.

The rest are due to a break in a tiny blood vessel in the front of the nose on the septal wall that separates one side of the nose from the other.

Nose picking, with or without a handkerchief, is the most frequent cause of repeated nose bleeds. Almost all nose bleeds will stop if the nose is packed tightly with a large piece of cotton and then squeezed for about five minutes until a clot forms. Nose bleeds appear to be far worse than they really are.

Unbearable heat and humidity become worse when you concentrate on them.

Paperboy's Bicycle Is Stolen Again

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (AP) — Jimmy Kasler, 13, delivered newspapers, washed cars and caddied to replace his bicycle stolen in June.

Last week, he gathered his earnings and bought a fancy, gold-colored, five-speed, two-wheeler — and the best lock he could find.

He left the bike unattended — and unlocked — a few minutes Tuesday while he shopped near his home. When he returned it was gone.

Kasler is the son of Air Force Maj. James H. Kasler, coleader of the initial air raids on the Hanoi-Haiphong oil complex who later was shot down and captured by the North Vietnamese.

The Dodd Case

By John Chamberlain

The case of Senator Tom Dodd, Democrat of Connecticut, has apparently been put in mothballs by the Senatorial investigating committee pending further research into the uses which the Senator put the campaign money raised by the contested testimonial dinners. So we won't know much about the ins and outs of the Senator's accounting practices until some time in the fall. But if Dodd's reputation for financial probity is to be left dangling for a few more weeks or months, it should be said in the interim that the charges that he did anything reprehensible by befriending General Julius Klein, public relations man for West German industrialists, have collapsed utterly.

Indeed, the whole weight of the evidence is that Dodd's trip to Germany, in the course of which he told former Chancellor Adenauer that General Klein had been unfairly represented in the West German press because of the grilling he received before the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, was an attempt to rectify a blatant injustice. The fact is that Klein, a patriot who served America in two world wars, had been victimized by a sort of liberal "McCarthyism." He had voluntarily submitted to an interrogation by Senator Fulbright's Foreign Relations Committee when it was trying to discover whether agents of foreign interests were exercising nefarious influence on the development of U. S. foreign policy.

The content of a famous person's letter generally determines its value. According to one dealer, Lincoln's handwritten laundry list might be worth only a few dollars while a letter he wrote to Confederate agents setting forth the North's surrender terms might be sold for $25,000.

Nothing was turned up to show that Klein had done anything to harm America. Yet the very fact that he had been gilled by a Senatorial committee led to slanted news stories in the West German press. Not being fully acquainted with the nature of an American Congressional investigation, the West Germans apparently took Klein's appearance before Senator Fulbright as evidence of some sort of guilt.

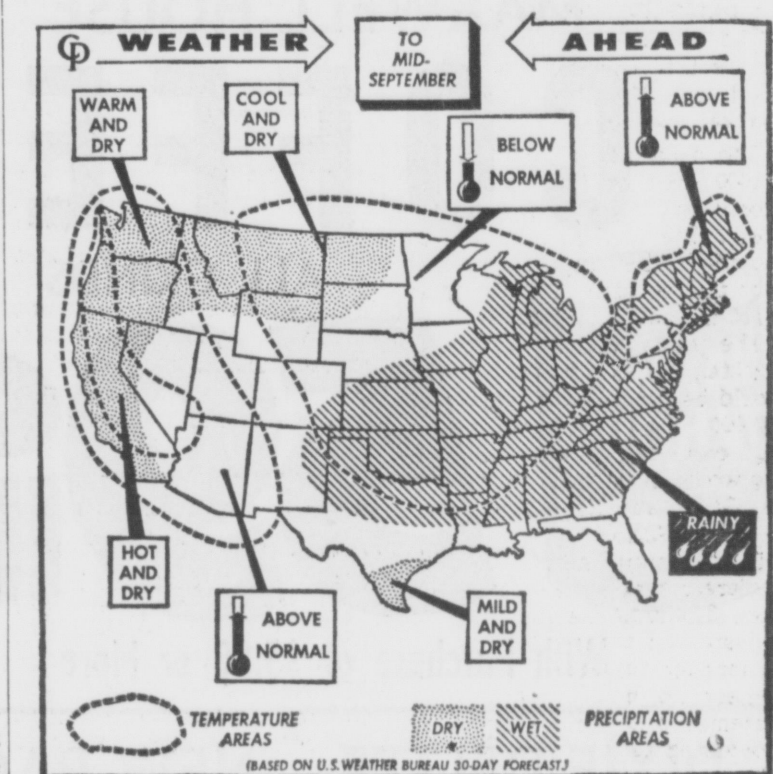

This sort of thing is an old story in the history of Senate investigations, in which the Senators get headlines that have a one-to-one relationship with the vigor, not to mention the ferocity, of their questioning. When Senator McCarthy was zeroing in upon a supposed culprit, the liberals wrote long articles protesting that the victim should be permitted the rights of defense that are accorded to any common criminal in a court of law. But nobody took up for General Klein when, as a result of the Senate questioning, he lost a fifty thousand dollar a year account with a West German client.

That is, nobody spoke up for Klein except Tom Dodd. General Klein was quite within his rights as a citizen to ask Dodd to undo some of the damage resulting from the Foreign Relations Committee interrogation. And Dodd, in taking time out during his trip to Germany to speak up in Klein's behalf, was doing what any friend should have done.

It is unfortunate that the questions of Dodd's finances should be mixed up in the public mind with the Klein matter. There is no relation, organic or otherwise, between them. The fact is that Dodd acted like an honorable gentleman in trying to undo a wrong done to a friend. In my opinion he would have been more aggressive in defending himself. There was no necessity for trying to prove that the good word he spoke to Adenauer for General Klein was subsidiary to the main business of a trip to Germany undertaken to interview a confessed Soviet assassin. Dodd, as Vice Chairman of the Senate Internal Security Subcommittee, had a perfect right to defend Klein against the imputation that he had somehow acted to undermine U. S. foreign policy.

The morality of the whole Klein affair is on Dodd's side. Whether he will be comparably vindicated on the subject of his finances is not for me to say in advance of the evidence. But the action of Dodd's employees in lifting documents from his safe for photostating is hardly to be recommended as a rule of ethical conduct. If the documents had been taken from a private home without a search warrant, the act would come under the heading of theft and would in itself be punishable by law.

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Roger Miller, composer of "You Can't Roller Skate in a Buffalo Herd" and "My Uncle Used to Love Me But She Died," may very well be just what television has needed for a long time: A new variety star with style and personality all his own.

Miller, whose NBC half-hour show will be a candidate for public approval in the new season, is a tall, sleepy-eyed Texan with a Southwestern drawl that would make LBJ green with envy. He has built-in hatred of the cliché answer.

Ask him about his upcoming show, and instead of telling you about the great guys he's working with, he'll murmur something about it being "something like swimming — if you panic you drown."

"The Roger Miller Show" will be the only really novel excursion into variety on television in the season that starts in a couple of weeks. All in all, there will be 10 programs weekly on the three networks that fall into the variety category — and three of them, "The Ed Sullivan Show," "The Red Skelton Show" and "The Lawrence Welk Show" have been around almost as long as television itself.

There will also be two other new variety shows this season.

Milton Berle is coming back on ABC in what he promises will be a revue. Garry Moore returns to CBS after a two-season absence.

Thus Miller will be the only real "new face" that TV talks about so much but uses so infrequently.

No one can tell now what kind of television personality Miller will show. It is a vast distance between being a guest star singing his own songs and acting as host to guest stars, making them look good — and singing other people's music.

And most of all, it is hard to tell how a show competing with "The Lucy Show" will make out, since Miss Ball's television road is marked by the graves of series that died for lack of audiences.

"There are some things that I just won't worry about," Miller reflected. "I always say 'Rome wasn't built in a day.'"

It is even hard to predict what his show will look like. Miller himself says the set will consist of "two trees and a picture of my uncle," and, for a change from turtle-neck sweaters and bright-colored slacks, he'll specialize in "hip boots and haimets."

With a couple of exceptions like Jack Jones and Liberace, he said he'll try to find guests who aren't the eternal travelers on the variety circuit.

Moon Probe

Still another major success has been scored by American space scientists striving to land a man on the moon by 1970.

Lunar Orbiter I was placed in almost perfect trajectory around the moon, preparatory to filming nine potential landing sites along a 3,000-mile strip of lunar wasteland. The Russians previously had orbited the moon but with a less sophisticated vehicle that lacked television cameras. Orbiter's pictures are an important new "first."

Even without the pictures, valuable experience has been gained. The technical equipment needed to guide an unmanned satellite into a desired position 238,857 miles beyond the earth has proved itself on the first test. Perhaps even more important, the myriad mental calculations based on what virtually amounted to only theoretical analyses of the moon's gravity also proved correct.

It would be hard to imagine a more complicated test of man's ingenuity. The capability of the human mind to cope with challenges never ceases to amaze.

The Business World

By Sam Dawson

NEW YORK (AP) — The plunge of the stock market has been called a crisis in investor confidence. The drop of the Dow-Jones Industrial average below the 800 mark could be a psychological setback. That's because stock market watchers—whether shareholders or not—put faith in these neat round numbers.

It does little good to tell the general public that Monday's drop of 12.59 points in the index of 30 leading industrial stocks is not an average drop of $12.59 per share by any means, but less than $1.25. Nor will the public turn to other indexes tailored to come closer to actual dollar values in recording upswings and downturns.

What the public notes is that just six months ago the Dow industrial was pushing close to a fantastic figure of 1,000 and has now dropped more than 200 points—somewhat mysteriously, since business statistics continue to climb. The long flirtation for the Dow industrials with the 800 mark—first on the up-tick in the earlier years, and now on the downswing—captured public fancy.

It was Feb. 28, 1964, that the Dow industrial index finally closed above the 800 mark for the first time, after repeated near-misses. And from then until this spring the bulls had things pretty much their way with the Dow going to 955.15 on Feb. 9 this year. But they couldn't push the Dow to the mystic 1,000 point, despite general public expectation. And the bears have finally shoved it below 800.

New Mortgage Money Bill Near Signing

WASHINGTON (AP) — A new measure to pump $4.76 billion worth of government mortgage purchasing funds into the sagging home-building industry is expected to be signed into law this week.

The measure would channel funds through the Federal National Mortgage Association and would apply to both FHA and VA mortgages.

The extra FNMA purchasing authority would be made available in these ways:

—$2 billion by authorizing the association to issue debentures up to 15 times its capital, instead of 10 times as under present law. This was in both versions.

—$1.76 billion by authorizing the Treasury to subscribe to an additional $110 million of FNMA preferred stock. This also would be subject to the new 15-to-1 ratio. This provision was in the House measure, not in the Senate.

—$1 billion by authorizing FNMA to draw an additional $500 million from the Treasury and $500 million from special funds available to the President. The money would be for the agency's special assistance function. This provision was in the Senate bill, not the House.

The extra $3.76 billion cover by the first two items would be used in FNMA's secondary market operations.

The association has placed a $150,000 limit on the size of the mortgages it will buy under these. The conferees agreed to include in their report a request that this be lifted entirely or at least increased to $250,000.

The extra billion in special assistance funds under the bill would be limited to purchase of $15,000 mortgages except in high-cost areas, where the ceiling would be $17,500, or in Alaska, Guam and Hawaii, where it would be $22,500.

In the mass transit bill the conferees retained Senate provisions directing the secretary of housing and urban development to conduct research and development on new transportation systems; authorizing grants to provide up to 100 graduate-level fellowships a year in mass transit studies; and authorizing grants to universities to conduct research in urban transportation.

Contractors, Union Plan For Training

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The Ohio Contractors Association and the Ohio Operating Engineers Union issued a joint announcement Tuesday on the establishment of their first formal apprenticeship program.

During the next 18 months the two groups will open five and possibly six schools, in Columbus, Cleveland, Cincinnati, Findlay, Portsmouth, and possibly Cambridge.

The first is to be opened in Columbus by Oct. 24, for 25 trainees.

There have been apprenticeship trainings plans previously, but these were primarily by individual contractors. Now, builders say, there is greater demand for workers, and the contractors cannot afford the extra expense due to the competition in the building industry.

The new program will be financed by allocating one cent from the hourly wage packages agreed upon between the contractors and the operating engineers.

It will be a four-year program for trainees attending classes at least one evening each week, and all day sessions on Saturday during the slack construction season. Blueprint reading, mechanical drawing and other skills will be taught.

$650,000 Fire Hits Youngstown Store

YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio (AP)—A short circuit in an exhaust fan was blamed for a $650,000 fire that destroyed Imperial Wholesalers Inc. discount store Tuesday. One fireman suffered smoke inhalation.

Firemen said the fire spread through the paint department and then ran through most of the building, causing the roof to cave in and the walls to buckle.

Pickaway Grange Report

Saltcreek Valley Grange met in regular session with worthy overseer Wayne Luckhart presiding.

Paul Dunkle, youth chairman who had just returned from Grange Camp at Kelley's Island, stated that four members of the County Youth Group had attended the Camp and that 14 other members visited. Mrs. Philip Judy is contact chairman for a youth member project which is underway.

Mrs. Wayne Luckhart, Home Economics Chairman, expressed appreciation for all assistance at Fair time and for the recent Pomona session. As Fair exhibit chairman, Mrs. Judson Beougher thanked those who helped with the blue ribbon booth.

The secretary, Mrs. Leora Sayre, reviewed the summary for annual Grange inspection as scored by John F. Dowler, Deputy.

Reams Team Heads For Northwest Ohio

LISBON, Ohio (AP) — State-wide Democratic candidates carried their campaign tour further into northwest Ohio today, continuing their attacks against the administration of Republican Gov. James A. Rhodes.

State Sen. Frazier Reams Jr., Rhodes' opponent in the November election, headed up the caravan now in its fourth week of stumping through the state's rural areas.

A communication was read from the state lecturer, T. G. Watson, recognizing and commending Paul Dunkle for his program contribution to the State Grange Library.

As co-operative captains for a competitive attendance and membership boosting project, the following were appointed: Gregory Fraunfelter and Paul Dunkle, Robert Collins Jr. and Larry Justice. The losing team is to give a dinner for the entire Grange.

Larry Justice thanked fellow members for making his camp experience possible.

"We Went To Camp" was the theme of the program as arranged by the lecturer, Dunkle who served as one of the staff at the Annual Grange Youth Camp at Kelley's Island. The program was begun by all singing "Battle Hymn of the Republic" and Hoyt Timmons giving highlights of the life of author Julia Ward Howe. By pairs, camp activity was pantomimed. Mrs. Robert Collins Sr. and Francis Fraunfelter were winners of a vocabulary contest. "Tenting Tonight" was sung and Larry Justice, Robert Collins Jr., Greg Fraunfelter, and the Lecturer, reviewed their total camp experience and cited personal benefits.

Refreshments were served by Mr. and Mrs. Randolph Wolfe and Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Wolfe.

Officers will be elected at the Sept. 6 session.

Vo Planning Centers Due In Big Cities

CLEVELAND (AP) — Gov. James A. Rhodes said Tuesday that Ohio will concentrate its vocational planning centers in areas of high unemployment in the major cities.

He made the remark in a speech prepared for delivery at a new state center in the Hough area, a Negro slum that was the scene of recent rioting.

"All of the training and re-training programs will go for naught if we fail to provide jobs for the able-bodied person who wants to go to work," Rhodes added. "We are calling on industry to do its part to provide jobs."

The new center will serve unemployed persons 16 and older. It is the first of its kind opened by the Bureau of Unemployment Compensation. Openings of similar facilities are planned soon for Columbus and Cincinnati.

Rhodes said the state will provide similar services in rural areas mainly with mobile offices already in existence.

Lima Wage Negotiations Break Down

LIMA, Ohio (AP) — Negotiations between city officials and representatives of police and firemen seeking a wage boost broke down Tuesday after the city's offer was termed "unfair" by police and firemen's spokesmen.

The police and firemen have asked for a 5 per cent wage increase for each six months over the next 18 months, plus time-and-a-half for overtime, and additional in longevity pay.

The city offered a flat 5 per cent wage as well as overtime and longevity benefits, but these were not acceptable to the police and firemen on the basis offered.

The next move of the two service departments has not been determined, but there have been indications the police and firemen may attempt to go to the public via demonstrations and petitions to reach their goals.

Nixon Sees LBJ-RFK Ticket Ahead

WASHINGTON (AP) — Richard Nixon predicted Tuesday that President Johnson might drop Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey and choose Sen. Robert F. Kennedy as his running mate in 1968 if the President feels that he faces a tough Republican challenge.

Nixon, who is considered a potential candidate for the 1968

GOP presidential nomination, told a news conference the nation "might well see" a Johnson-Kennedy ticket in the next presidential election.

The former vice president said that recent public opinion polls indicate that among party rank and file, Kennedy is the "most popular Democrat."

But despite Kennedy's popularity, Nixon said it would be practically impossible for the senator to challenge an incumbent president in the party nominating convention.

He said if Johnson wants to run again for the nomination in 1968 he will certainly get it, but that he might decide to take Kennedy as his running mate as "added insurance."

New Mortgage Money Bill Near Signing

WASHINGTON (AP) — A new measure to pump $4.76 billion worth of government mortgage purchasing funds into the sagging home-building industry is expected to be signed into law this week.

The measure would channel funds through the Federal National Mortgage Association and would apply to both FHA and VA mortgages.

The extra FNMA purchasing authority would be made available in these ways:

—$2 billion by authorizing the association to issue debentures up to 15 times its capital, instead of 10 times as under present law. This was in both versions.

—$1.76 billion by authorizing the Treasury to subscribe to an additional $110 million of FNMA preferred stock. This also would be subject to the new 15-to-1 ratio. This provision was in the House measure, not in the Senate.

—$1 billion by authorizing FNMA to draw an additional $500 million from the Treasury and $500 million from special funds available to the President. The money would be for the agency's special assistance function. This provision was in the Senate bill, not the House.

The extra $3.76 billion cover by the first two items would be used in FNMA's secondary market operations.

The association has placed a $150,000 limit on the size of the mortgages it will buy under these. The conferees agreed to include in their report a request that this be lifted entirely or at least increased to $250,000.

The extra billion in special assistance funds under the bill would be limited to purchase of $15,000 mortgages except in high-cost areas, where the ceiling would be $17,500, or in Alaska, Guam and Hawaii, where it would be $22,500.

In the mass transit bill the conferees retained Senate provisions directing the secretary of housing and urban development to conduct research and development on new transportation systems; authorizing grants to provide up to 100 graduate-level fellowships a year in mass transit studies; and authorizing grants to universities to conduct research in urban transportation

Contractors, Union Plan For Training

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The Ohio Contractors Association and the Ohio Operating Engineers Union issued a joint announcement Tuesday on the establishment of their first formal apprenticeship program.

During the next 18 months the two groups will open five and possibly six schools, in Columbus, Cleveland, Cincinnati, Findlay, Portsmouth, and possibly Cambridge.

The first is to be opened in Columbus by Oct. 24, for 25 trainees.

There have been apprenticeship trainings plans previously, but these were primarily by individual contractors. Now, builders say, there is greater demand for workers, and the contractors cannot afford the extra expense due to the competition in the building industry.

The new program will be financed by allocating one cent from the hourly wage packages agreed upon between the contractors and the operating engineers.

Local Women Attend State Convention

Kappa Alpha Chapter delegates to the 35th Ohio State Convention were Mrs. George Lucas and Mrs. Charles Jolliffe. The three-day convention was held in Dayton with 864 chapter delegates in attendance. The theme was "Keys". Forums were held at which delegates were informed of new areas for exploration in cultural service and social achievement. A tea and tour of the Dayton Sorority House was one of the highlights of the convention weekend. The sorority house, built in 1910, is a replica of a castle in Germany. The architectural plans, brass accessories and wood used in paneling and woodwork all came from Germany. Delegates were presented silver charm bracelets, with a charm for each convention event.

Miss Forquer Honor Guest At Shower

Pink and white flowers and decorations were used in the Ashville Methodist Church basement as part of a miscellaneous shower honoring Miss Bonnie Forquer. Hostesses for the event were Patsy Welsh, Nancy Hines, Pam Speicher and Pat Roby. Arrangements were made by Marilyn Sabine. Miss Forquer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Forquer, Ashville, is the bride-elect of Mr. Robert Remy, son of Mr. and Mrs. Dolph Remy, Ashville. The wedding will be an event of Sept. 2 in the St. Paul Lutheran Church. Attending were Mrs. Donald Forquer, Mrs. Dolph Remy, Mrs. Wayne Hines, Candy Miller, Kim Melvin, Carolyn Noggle, Susie Dum, Marilyn Youngkin, Carol Balthaser, Terrie Trimble, Lucy Vause, Madelyn Forquer, Diane Custer, Candy Melvin, Betty Forquer, Mrs. Norman Pontius, Glenda Rineholt, and Mrs. Harvey Roby Jr. Those sending gifts were Mrs. Vaughn Herdman, Rutha Geise, Mrs. Bud Glitt, Mrs. Becky Sampson, Bonnie Sawyer, Barbara Cromley, and Mrs. Donald Welsh. Refreshments of cake, punch, mints and nuts were served from a lace covered table. The centerpiece, an arrangement of pink and white flowers in a white umbrella, was presented to the honored guest by the hostesses.

You can drop frankfurters into boiling water, cover and let stand in a warm place for 10 minutes, then drain and serve. Because franks are already cooked, they need only to be heated.

When an old-fashioned recipe directs you to weight down a fruit or vegetable conserve or relish in a crock, you can use a plate with which to cover the mixture and weight it down with a jar filled with cold water.

Dear Abby:

By Abigail Van Buren

Don't Overlook All Faults

DEAR ABBY: I have always been taught to respect my elders, but my patience is wearing thin. My husband's mother is living with us now, and she really is welcome but some of the little annoying things she does is beginning to get us down.

For instance she gets the newspaper first and tears it all apart. She even works the crossword puzzles while my husband sizzles. She sits in his favorite chair and tunes in the TV program she likes. When one of us is on the phone she will ask later what the other party said as she could hear only "our" half of it. She enters into all family discussions and takes the children's side if we correct them. Is there some way we can let her know she's out of line without creating a major battle? Or should we overlook it?

Hostesses for the event were Patsy Welsh, Nancy Hines, Pam Speicher and Pat Roby. Arrangements were made by Marilyn Sabine.

Miss Forquer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Forquer, Ashville, is the bride-elect of Mr. Robert Remy, son of Mr. and Mrs. Dolph Remy, Ashville. The wedding will be an event of Sept. 2 in the St. Paul Lutheran Church.

Attending were Mrs. Donald Forquer, Mrs. Dolph Remy, Mrs. Wayne Hines, Candy Miller, Kim Melvin, Carolyn Nogle, Susie Dum, Marilyn Youkin, Carol Balthaser, Terrie Trimble, Lucy Vause, Madelyn Forquer, Diane Custer, Candy Melvin, Betty Forquer, Mrs. Norman Pontius, Glenda Rineholt, and Mrs. Harvey Roby Jr. Those sending gifts were Mrs. Vaughn Herdman, Rutha Geise, Mrs. Bud Gilt, Mrs. Becky Sampsill, Bonnie Sawyer, Barbara Cromley, and Mrs. Donald Welsh.

Refreshments of cake, punch, minis and nuts were served from a lace covered table. The centerpiece, an arrangement of pink and white flowers in a white umbrella, was presented to the honored guest by the hostesses.

You can drop frankfurters into boiling water, cover and let stand in a warm place for 10 minutes, then drain and serve. Because franks are already cooked, they need only to be heated.

When an old-fashioned recipe directs you to weight down a fruit or vegetable conserve or relish in a crock, you can use a plate with which to cover the mixture and weight it down with a jar filled with cold water.

Dear Abby: By Abigail Van Buren

Don't Overlook All Faults

DEAR ABBY: I have always been taught to respect my elders, but my patience is wearing thin. My husband's mother is living with us now, and she really is welcome but some of the little annoying things she does is beginning to get us down.

For instance she gets the newspaper first and tears it all apart. She even works the crossword puzzles while my husband sizzles. She sits in his favorite chair and tunes in the TV program she likes. When one of us is on the phone she will ask later what the other party said as she could hear only "our" half of it. She enters into all family discussions and takes the children's side if we correct them. Is there some way we can let her know she's out of line without creating a major battle? Or should we overlook it?

Mrs. Hartley Hostess for Sunshine Class

The Sunshine Class of the Ashville EUB Church met Friday at the home of Mrs. Ruth Hartley, South Bloomfield, with Mrs. Pearl Fortner as assisting hostess.

Wylma Wardell, president, opened the meeting with a song and everyone repeated the Lord's Prayer. Miss Maud Plummer gave a reading. Reports were read and approved.

Prizes were won by Ernestine Craig, Maud Plummer and Wylma Wardell. Home made ice cream and cake was served to Maud Plummer, Ida Plummer, Mary Costlow, Hazel Ward, Wylma Wardell, Ruth Hartley, Mary Kaiser, Ruth Cline, Ernestine Craig, Mrs. Morgan, Pearl Fortner, Gertrude Bevins.

Guests were Doris Hartley, Donna Hartley, Arlene Hartley and Ruth Ann Cline.

Sue Sheets Feted On 16th Birthday

Sue Sheets was honored Monday evening on her 16th birthday with a cookout given by her mother, Mrs. June Sheets.

Attending the event were Ruth Christopher, Judy Fuller, Ann Stewart, Anna Marie Lewis, Beverly Smith, Mrs. Edna Hanawalt, Mr. and Mrs. Larry Sheets and Terri and Sherri Sheets.

Frustrations Are Blamed For Hough Racial Strife

CLEVELAND (AP) — Frustration in the east Side Hough area was responsible for last month's racial violence, a citizens committee was told Tuesday night.

This was in contrast to the official report by the Cuyahoga County Grand Jury earlier this month, which said the violence in Negro slums was organized by a small group of trained and disciplined professionals.

The Citizens Committee for Review of Grand Jury Report, which already has criticized the official report, heard "from witnesses that frustration was fed by:

- Housing owned by landlords who do not live up to city housing codes. Complaints from Hough Avenue residents have either been forgotten or dismissed by city officials.
- Sporadic garbage collection, of the federal antipoverty program to the grass roots level creating an area of filth and debris.
- Employers who consider job applicants with Hough addresses as undesirable employees.
- An apparent lack of effectiveness in delivering the goals in Hough.

Edward Adams, a Hough resident, told attorney William Moore that "frustration among the people," touched off the rioting that left four dead by gunfire in five nights of shooting, looting and firebombing.

Death Ends Long Career Of 'King of the Movies'

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Francis X. Bushman was a man who earned millions as "King of the Movies," lost them — and his fans — after his family life was discovered, and still was able to say the fun he had was worth every penny.

He was a man who traveled in a gold-plated automobile, let 300 Great Danes romp on a 480-acre estate, then moved in leaner years to a stucco house in the suburbs.

He was a man who once needed 18 secretaries to answer his fan mail, then needed radio work to support himself.

Bushman died Tuesday at 83 as he was pouring a cup of morning coffee. The Los Angeles County coroner's office, in an autopsy report, attributed his death to a "rupture of the heart."

"His passing marks the fall of one of the landmarks of Hollywood history," said Charlton Heston, president of the Screen Actors Guild. Heston starred in the remake of "Ben-Hur," a film Bushman made in 1925.

Bushman's movie career began in Chicago in 1911. It lasted, off and on, until his death.

"That he died with a movie role was the beautiful part of his passing," said his widow, Iva, 63. He was to have appeared in his first Western.

He made more than 400 movies, more than any other actor, living or dead.

Bushman's biographers said he earned between $6 million and $10 million at the height of his fame as a rugged leading man. Billboards proclaimed his profile the "handsomest face in the world."

46 Beauties On Hand for State Fair

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Forty-six beauties who will vie Saturday in the Miss U.S.A.-World Pageant are here, television star Art Linkletter is due shortly as an opening day star, Gov. James A. Rhodes presumably has his scissors sharpened, and Ohio's 1966 State Fair is set to open Thursday.

The governor, accompanied by his family, is scheduled to cut the ribbon at 6 a.m. EST and open what fair officials promise will be the biggest and best Ohio fair ever and one of the best anywhere in the nation.

It will be probably the longest in history here, running through Labor Day, and some of the biggest names in entertainment ever booked for the event are lined up for the grandstand shows.

Opening day is dedicated to Ohio's youth, and the first scheduled event is the Junior Fair Board breakfast. The All-Ohio Boys' Band will perform in the grandstand at 1:30 and 7:30 p.m., and shows headed by Linkletter are slated for 2 and 8 p.m.

The Ohio Exposition Center has been renovated with new buildings and displays, record numbers of livestock are expected for judging, major farm equipment exhibits are set up and there's, of course, the midway.

Appalachia's Ailing To Be Interviewed

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Chronically ill mothers in Ohio's Appalachia counties are being interviewed as part of a special research project by Ohio State University.

The project, financed by the U.S. Children's Bureau, includes interviews with 200 chronically ill mothers in eight counties in an effort to learn effects of their illness on their respective households, including care of children.

Part of the study is to inventory and evaluate community resources such as home nursing care, housekeeper, home-maker services, and day care centers.

Counties in which the interviews are being conducted are Athens, Belmont, Carroll, Highland, Hocking, Meigs, Scioto, and Coshocton.

Rhodes Plans State Help For Migrants

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Gov. James A. Rhodes gave assurances Tuesday that state funds will be available to continue summer and fall classes for 1,200 migrant children.

Migrant children's classes were to have been cut short for lack of $12,850 in Economic Opportunity Act funds Congress has not acted to extend the migrant education program for 1966-67.

The Ohio Department of Education asked for state funds after notification three weeks ago that an anticipated appropriation from the U.S. Office of Economic Opportunity would not be available.

Instruction for 425 children in early summer programs had already been completed when notification came.

Fifteen centers in 12 counties would have been affected by lack of funds. Counties involved are Darke, Fulton, Hancock, Henry, Mercer, Ottawa, Putnam, Sandusky, Seneca, Van Wert, Williams and Wood.

TODAY In History

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Today is Wednesday, Aug. 24, the 236th day of 1966. There are 129 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history: On this date in 1814, President James Madison and his cabinet fled Washington as British troops marched on the capital.

On this date:

- In 1867, Johns Hopkins University at Baltimore was incorporated.
- In 1891, Thomas Edison applied for a patent on a camera to make moving pictures.
- In 1912, Parcel Post service was authorized by Congress.
- In 1939, it was announced a Russo-German nonaggression pact had been signed.
- In 1941, Britain's Prime Minister Winston Churchill pledged his country would aid the United States in the event of war with Japan.

Ten years ago — United Nations Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjöld fired Viktor Ivanovich Petrov, employed as a U.N. translator since 1953. Petrov, a Soviet citizen, was accused by the U.S. Justice Department of spying against the United States.

Five years ago — As the Berlin crisis intensified, the White House issued a solemn warning to the Soviet Union that any interference by the Soviet government or the Communist East German regime with free access to West Berlin would be an aggressive act.

One year ago — Republicans in the House of Representatives issued a paper criticizing President Johnson's Viet Nam policy.

Dr. Sam, Wife Buy Home in Bay Village

CLEVELAND (AP) — Samuel H. Sheppard, who won a new trial after serving nine years in Ohio Penitentiary for the bludgeoning slaying of his first wife, is moving from his suburban Rocky River home to a new $40,000 home in Bay Village.

The new home was purchased in the name of Sheppard's second wife, Arianne. The new home was financed with a $22,000 mortgage in the name of Samuel and Arianne Sheppard, according to the county records office.

BATTLE LINE BAPTISM—A baptismal service by immersion is conducted at Chu Chi, South Viet Nam, at the base camp of the 25th Infantry's 2nd Brigade. Chaplains officiating are Capt. Peter Kraak and Capt. John De Saegher.

Explorer's Bones Said Uncovered

ST. IGNACE, Mich. (AP) — Archeologists are speculating whether a skeleton unearthed from a grave at St. Ignace may be that of Father Jacques Marquette, the famed French Jesuit priest and explorer.

Lyle Stoner, a Michigan State University archeologist, said tests indicate three skeletons taken from the grave Sunday date back to 1650-1700 and are of European descent.

Father Marquette, who founded a mission at St. Ignace, lived from 1637-1675.

The grave was the second discovered on land of a St. Ignace doctor. It contained brass buttons, religious articles and Indian beads.

Last Thursday, MSU archeologists discovered a grave containing six skeletons. It also contained a number of artifacts, including five Jesuit rings and a crucifix.

"King of the Movies" in an era when Charlie Chaplin, William S. Hart and Douglas Fairbanks Sr. were established stars.

He married four times. Leaving his first wife nearly ended his career in 1918.

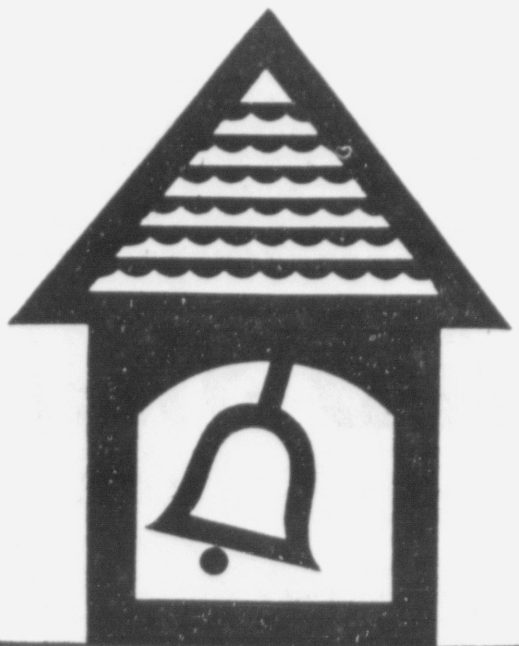

His contract stipulated that his marriage be kept secret. When he sued for divorce to marry his leading lady, Beverly Bayne, his fans learned that their romantic idol had five children — and they deserted him by millions for a newcomer named Rudolph Valentino.

Between 1932 and the late '40s he made more than 5,000 radio broadcasts. His generosity — and the 1929 stock market crash — had hurt him, and he needed the money.

He returned to movies in 1943, and broke into television in the '50s.

Silver-haired and still handsome, he won some of his early fans when he served on the Mayor's Committee for the Affairs of the Aging.

We mean every word we say about Penn-Prest

We're real fussy about everything that wears our Penn-Prest label. At our Testing Center we machine wash and tumble dry over and over. We hunt for wrinkles under powerful lights. We worry over all seams and stitches 'til they're pucker-free. We're fussy so you won't have to fuss at all.

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — When a Saturn 1 rocket flings a satellite into orbit, its second stage enters a separate orbit and circles the earth like a giant empty house trailer.

Why not, somebody asked, make use of this hardware in some way?

That's what the National Aeronautics and Space Administration hopes to do. The agency's Marshall Space Flight Center has begun negotiating a contract to convert a Saturn 1 second stage into a manned space station.

The contract, with McDonnell Aircraft Corp. of St. Louis, Mo., is expected to run about $9 million.

McDonnell is to build an airlock that will connect a three-man Apollo spacecraft to the hydrogen fuel tank in the second stage and is to develop life-support systems to make the tank habitable.

The second stage, which uses liquid hydrogen and liquid oxygen for propulsion, is 58 feet long and weighs 23,000 pounds empty. Much of the length is taken up by the engine. But the hydrogen tank measures 20 feet by 21.7 feet — plenty of room for three astronauts to set up housekeeping.

The airlock will be about 15 feet long and 5 1/2 feet in diameter. It will be attached to the top of the second stage and ride in an adapter section between the rocket and the Apollo spacecraft.

Once in orbit, the three Apollo crewmen will separate their ship from the rocket, turn it around and link up with a docking apparatus at one end of the airlock.

The airlock will be a chamber with airtight doors like manhole covers at each end. The astronauts will open one door and crawl into the chamber, closing the cover behind them. Then they open the other end and enter the hydrogen tank. This eliminates the need to depressurize the spacecraft and the tank each time a man enters or leaves.

There also will be an additional hatch on the side of the airlock to permit an astronaut to take a space walk without depressurizing either of the cabins.

Before entering the tank, the astronauts will make certain any leftover hydrogen is vented overboard and they will activate equipment to pressurize it. They also will electrically connect the Apollo craft's life support system to the fuel tank.

Equipment such as work tables, beds and experiments will be packed in containers attached to the walls of the tank.

NASA officials hope to try out this concept in 1968 keeping the three astronauts in the tank for up to 30 days.

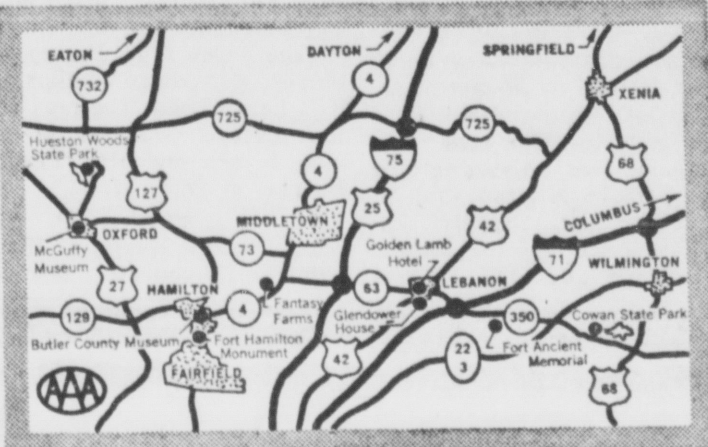

By then, the combination of the Saturn 1 and the Apollo spacecraft will be thoroughly checked. A test flight is scheduled from Cape Kennedy Thursday that may pave the way for the first three-man Apollo earth-orbit flight later this year. The advanced Saturn 5 rocket is to boost an Apollo ship toward the moon in 1968 or 1969.

Looking at Ohio

Many Attractions Found In Southwestern District

EDITOR'S NOTE — This is one of a series of tours of Ohio featuring the state's lakes and parks prepared for readers of The Herald by the Columbus Auto Club.

Hueston Woods State Park with its 625-acre Acton Lake is a top attraction in this southwestern Ohio visit.

Located in a reserve of 3,524 acres, this lake is nearly five miles north of Oxford, off Route 732. Around the lake is one of Ohio's best remaining original stands of beech and maple. Rental cabins are available.

At the other end of the tour area is Cowan State Park, off Route 350 near Wilmington. The 700-acre lake provides fine fishing, boating and swimming.

Also on Route 350, near Lebanon, is the 685-acre Fort Ancient State Memorial. Prehistoric Mound Builder earthworks enclose 100 acres.

Lebanon, with beautiful old homes and buildings, is the home of the Golden Lamb (1816), Ohio's oldest hotel still in operation. It is widely renowned for fine food. Charles Dickens was among many notables stopping here.

Also at Lebanon on Route 42 is Glendower (1836), preserved by the Ohio Historical Society as a beautifully restored Greek Revival mansion reflecting Ohio home life in the 19th century.

Oxford, in addition to interesting old homes, offers the William Holmes McGuffey Museum, honoring the Miami University professor who in the 1830's compiled the famous readers bearing his name.

At Hamilton is the Butler County Museum. This city was settled in 1791 when General Arthur St. Clair built Fort Hamilton here. A memorial building with historic exhibits is located on the site of the old fort.

Between Hamilton and Middletown, on Route 4, is Fantasy Farms, featuring farm animals in appropriate settings, as well as rides, a play area and picnic facilities. There is an admission charge.

The Columbus Auto Club suggests this routing to the tour area: southwest on Route 22 to Wilmington, Fort Ancient and Lebanon area; west on Route 63 from Lebanon to Ohio Route 4 to the Hamilton area; northwest on Route 177 to Hueston Woods State Park area.

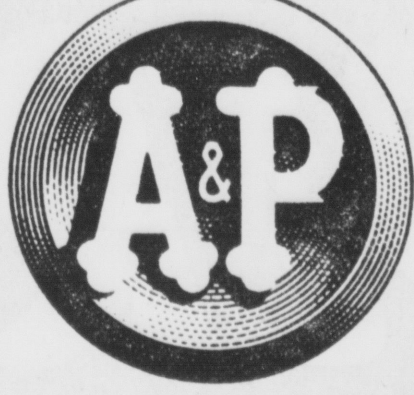

Pianist Roger Williams Injured in Mishap

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Pianist Roger Williams has canceled all immediate concert and television appearances following a motorcycle accident in which his right hand was injured.

A doctor for the entertainer said he did not expect the injury to have any permanent effect on Williams' playing. Some stones were extracted from the hand, according to the physician.

A spokesman said Williams' motorcycle was struck by a car Saturday afternoon.

"But we're still going to the lake, at least for a few days."

how good are A&P frozen vegetables?

Read on... you be the judge.

The best vegetables are Grade A.

Every package of A&P Brand Frozen Vegetables is Grade A.

Pick up a package.

You'll see. "Grade A" is printed on every wrapper.

Do you have a different brand in your freezer?

Check it. See if it's labeled Grade A.

Surprised at the quality of A&P Brand Frozen Vegetables?

Not if you're an A&P shopper.

After all, it does bear the A&P seal.

What more is there to say?

Just this.

You won't believe the prices... they're so low.

Are A&P Brand Frozen Vegetables a good reason for shopping A&P?

They're one of many.

P.S. There are exceptions:

Potato Morsels, Cottage Fries, Whole Peeled Potatoes.

That's because today there are no standards for Grade A on these items.

But don't worry. There are none finer.

Top Stars Select Roles With Extreme Carefulness

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — You may harbor the notion that veteran stars stay on top by dint of looks, luck and the loyalty of fans. It takes more than that.

Career management is the necessary ingredient. Cary Grant handtailors his vehicles with such care that he can make one film only every 18 months. James Stewart selects his films with extreme care, following the needs of the market.

Henry Fonda is another expert planner, and the only longtime star who has also maintained an active career in the theater. But even his stage appearances are carefully planned.

"When I went into 'Generation' on the stage last year," he explains, "I made certain I would remain alive in films. I had three unreleased movies before I started the play."

With the end of his successful run in "Generation," Fonda has returned to films in MGM's "Welcome to Hard Times." It is a labor of love for him — though of course he also earns his usual high salary.

"It's not the kind of picture that will earn a lot of money," he admitted. "But it's an off-beat story that could be damned good. Those are the kind that make life interesting for an actor."

"But you can't make them all the time. If you do, you become known as an actor whose pictures don't make money. Then the banks won't lend on your name, and your career is in trouble."

"So I must also do commercial pictures like 'Sex and the Single Girl' and 'Battle of the Bulge.' Then I can afford to do a 'Twelve Angry Men' or a 'Welcome to Hard Times.' " Fonda hopes that "Hard Times" will have the same success as "The Oxbow Incident," the classic Western he made at Fox in 1942.

"But what a time we had getting that one made," he recalled. "Darryl Zanuck hated the property. He permitted it to be made only because the director, William Wellman, promised to make a flying picture, 'Thunder Birds,' afterwards."

"The Oxbow Incident" became something of a classic. So naturally Zanuck began taking all the credit for it."

Toledo Pay Fuss Taken Into Court

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP) — Common Pleas Court Thursday was asked to order Carl Diefenbach, clerk of City Council, to clarify to council petitions calling for a November election on a proposed 0.25 per cent income tax increase for police and firemen's salaries.

J. Slater Gibson, attorney, filed the petition for a writ of mandamus on behalf of three fire division employees and two police officers.

The attorney said he will seek an early hearing on the petition.
Gibson attached to his petition a motion for a court order compelling Diefenbach to certify the petitions.

Gibson's court action followed the course he promised Monday after Mayor John Potter declared at a council meeting that the petitions were not on the agenda because Diefenbach had not certified them for council consideration.

Diefenbach said he was acting on the advice of the city law department not to certify the petitions after Louis R. Young law director, ruled that they were invalid.

Gibson's suit contends that Diefenbach "has arbitrarily and without any authority at law" refused to perform his duties as clerk.

Lake Erie have been alerted to be on the lookout for flying saucers—little yellow ones, that is, used for testing currents in the lake.

Persons will be paid 50 cents for each one found. The city launched 100 of the plastic saucers, which measure six inches in diameter and have long red tails.

Walter E. Gerdel, commissioner of water pollution con-

Slum Kids Develop Their Own Language

PITTSBURGH (AP) — All the hip frogs and foxes are way out to Smokey the Bear.

But the frogs and foxes — boys and girls — aren't way out, says a Pittsburgh educator. They're simply speaking a "hidden language" that Smokey the Bear — teacher — doesn't understand.

"It's the product of creativity and imagination," says John Brewer, assistant director of compensatory education for the City's Board of Public Education.

Brewer — a balding Negro who grew up in Pittsburgh's slums and has spent his professional life teaching in them — says the "hidden language" masks the true intelligence of slum children.

Because words like "muska" and "dime dropper" don't show up on middle class-oriented intelligence tests, slum children often do poorly in the tests.

"Tests show these kids to be 4,000 to 5,000 words below the minimum vocabulary necessary for elementary school," Brewer says. "But we have found 3,200 words, including idioms, in their vocabularies, and all you have to do is find the transfers" — or translations.

"We accuse these children of coming out of a vacuum," Brewer says, "but there's a lot there, and their language enables them to survive in a closed ghetto."

Brewer has compiled a list of 5,000 slum idioms, many of which sound strange to middle-class ears.

It's not too hard to envision "bread" as money, or a "pearl pusher" as a toothbrush, but some of the words were born in the slums and their derivations can be obscure to an outsider.

Dirty person, for example, is a "muska," short for muscatel.

"The lowest form of complete human deterioration is a hard-core wino," Brewer explains. "These winos will jump in hoksey piles — junk heaps — to find an empty bottle they can sell for a penny. They find enough bottles and they can buy some muscatel, the cheapest wine they can get."

To inform on someone is called "dropping the dime," and Brewer explains it this way: "When you go into a phone booth to call the police, what do you do? You drop a dime into the phone, right?"

Some other slum words compiled by Brewer:

Rays — parents, a source of warmth; hence, a loving term.

Knuckle drill — a fight.

What key you in? — whose side are you on?

Cold plate — revenge.

Bucket of paint — makeup.

Fine peeler — magistrate.

Tiny Tim — a mouse, or mousey person.

Big cream — evil.

Some words defy all attempts to trace their derivation, or even to spell them.

"One is pronounced something like 'yakinoma.' You can spell it any way you like, because it's part of an oral, unwritten language.

Brewer says a yakinoma is a classy female, "a girl who's got everything working for her, and she's going to take you for a ride."

The hidden language, Brewer says, gives slum children a "feeling of unity, a oneness. Their life is hard. It's cruel. This is one of the protective devices, an outlet."

Brewer says the idiom also indicates that slum children are much more intelligent than many educators credit them with being.

$330,376,802⁰⁰

... that's what Kroger contributed to the economy of its native state of Ohio last year alone. We spent some $247,476,802 on products of Ohio farms and Ohio factories. We paid or collected nearly $10 million in Ohio state and local taxes. Our Ohio employees earned some $73 million. That's why Kroger, as one of Ohio's major industries and Ohio's largest home-based supermarket chain (Cincinnati), plays a major part in Ohio's industrial growth as it has for the past 83 years.

Slum Kids Develop Their Own Language

PITTSBURGH (AP) — All the hip frogs and foxes are way out to Smokey the Bear.

But the frogs and foxes — boys and girls — aren't way out, says a Pittsburgh educator. They're simply speaking a "hidden language" that Smokey the Bear — teacher — doesn't understand.

"It's the product of creativity and imagination," says John Brewer, assistant director of compensatory education for the City's Board of Public Education.

Brewer — a balding Negro who grew up in Pittsburgh's slums and has spent his professional life teaching in them — says the "hidden language" masks the true intelligence of slum children.

Because words like "muska" and "dime dropper" don't show up on middle class-oriented intelligence tests, slum children often do poorly in the tests.

"Tests show these kids to be 4,000 to 5,000 words below the minimum vocabulary necessary for elementary school," Brewer says. "But we have found 3,200 words, including idioms, in their vocabularies, and all you have to do is find the transfers" — or translations.

"We accuse these children of coming out of a vacuum," Brewer says, "but there's a lot there, and their language enables them to survive in a closed ghetto."

Brewer has compiled a list of 5,000 slum idioms, many of which sound strange to middle-class ears.

It's not too hard to envision "bread" as money, or a "pearl pusher" as a toothbrush, but some of the words were born in the slums and their derivations can be obscure to an outsider.

Dirty person, for example is a "muska," short for muscatel.

"The lowest form of complete human deterioration is a hard-core wino," Brewer explains. "These winos will jump in hok-ey piles — junk heaps — to find an empty bottle they can sell for a penny. They find enough bottles and they can buy some muscatel, the cheapest wine they can get."

To inform on someone is called "dropping the dime," and Brewer explains it this way:

"When you go into a phone booth to call the police, what do you do? You drop a dime into the phone, right?"

Some other slum words compiled by Brewer:

Rays — parents, a source of warmth; hence, a loving term.

Knuckle drill — a fight.

What key you in? — whose side are you on?

Cold plate — revenge.

Bucket of paint — makeup.

Fine peeler — magistrate.

Tiny Tim — a mouse, or mousey person.

Big cream — evil.

Some words defy all attempts to trace their derivation, or even to spell them.

"One is pronounced something like 'yakinoma.' You can spell it any way you like, because it's part of an oral, unwritten language.

Brewer says a yakinoma is a classy female, "a girl who's got everything working for her, and she's going to take you for a ride."

The hidden language, Brewer says, gives slum children a "feeling of unity, a oneness. Their life is hard. It's cruel. This is one of the protective devices, an outlet."

Brewer says the idiom also indicates that slum children are much more intelligent than many educators credit them with being.

Missing GIs Pose Problem

Instances of problems faced by families have cropped up in reports from a recently formed civilian group seeking to protect POW's legal rights, and in interviews of some wives by The Associated Press.

Names of the missing men and their families are omitted to prevent the Communists from confronting captured men with reports of difficulties encountered by their dependents. The Defense Department declines to make public information about the men for the same reason.

One woman who tried to get quick cash from the Air Force after her husband was shot down reported, "One officer at the base told me to go on relief because he couldn't give me the money."

"It was only a couple of weeks before Christmas and I said, 'You've got to be kidding me.' But he wasn't."

She had been getting a regular postal money order from her husband in addition to a monthly allotment of $200, a deduction from his pay arranged by the serviceman.

Told she could not draw against her husband's pay, which was accumulating in a special account, the woman threatened to go to the newspapers. She also wrote President Johnson. She says she got the money and a letter of apology from the Air Force.

The troubles of some service wives came to light during the past two months after Patrick McGahn, an Atlantic City, N.J., lawyer, formed the Society for the Defense of American Prisoners.

McGahn's original interest was in trying to get American lawyers into North Viet Nam to defend American fliers, then threatened with trials as war criminals.

He says that more than 100 wives and parents of missing men called or wrote him, many complaining of their treatment by the government. Some enclosed copies of their correspondence with the military and congressmen.

With some 400 Americans missing in the Viet Nam war, McGahn suggests the services could pool resources to provide highly trained personnel that could regularly visit dependents, explain their rights, help with filling out forms, offer legal advice and aid them in dealing with government agencies.

If a GI is killed, then such things as real estate and other property pass to dependents together with special payments from the government and money from insurance policies.

To ease the threat of red tape, the services encourage Viet Nam-bound men to give their wives general powers of attorney — permitting them to act for the husband legally no matter what comes up. But some wives report this doesn't always solve the problem.

A Pentagon source said men who try to make out valid powers of attorney from Viet Nam cannot do so in 23 states which insist that the documents be witnessed by a notary public of that state or have other restrictions.

Many men are sent to Viet Nam with only a few days notice and don't get around to clearing up all their personal affairs.

Some men balk at filling out powers of attorney or assigning nearly all their pay to their wives for a variety of reasons.

One is that an unscrupulous woman could put everything in her name and then sue for divorce.

Some men have said their wives just don't have the needed business sense. Many decline to act for the same reason other men refuse to make wills. They don't want to admit even indirectly that they may not be coming back.

The Pentagon spokesman said the Army has an aggressive and effective program to get its men to do their best to insure that wives will not run into unnecessary problems. He said the Navy and Air Force have not done nearly so well. The overwhelming majority of missing and captured men are Navy and Air Force fliers.

Sen. Young Labels Rusk 'War Hawk'

WASHINGTON (AP) — Democratic senatorial critics of President Johnson's Viet Nam policies described Secretary of State Dean Rusk Tuesday as a war hawk.

Sen. Stephen M. Young, D-Ohio, seized on a news conference statement by Rusk to express fear that some U.S. moves toward invasion of North Viet Nam territory may be in the making.

Young referred in a senate speech to Rusk's Aug. 5 comment that the United States has not wanted to invade the demilitarized zone between north and south Viet Nam, but a local commander "has to do those things which are necessary for the security of his own forces."

The secretary spoke in defense of U.S. air strikes directed at military targets in the zone, and said a full North Vietnamese division had moved into South Viet Nam through the zone before the air strikes were started.

But Young described Rusk's comment as "outrageous and frightening."

Calling Rusk "the supreme war hawk in the President's cabinet," Young said the statement could mean that U. S. troops would pursue the enemy into North Viet Nam territory. He said such action would be "unthinkable."

"But a lot of 'unthinkables' have come to pass in Viet Nam so why could we not be fearful of an invasion?" He asked. He said any such move would set the United States on a "Collision course" with Red China.

The World Today

WASHINGTON (AP) — The New York Stock Exchange is hitting new lows for 1966 but this year has turned into a political bull market for New York's young Democratic senator, Robert F. Kennedy.

He is being deluged with invitations to speak around the country in this fall's political campaigns just as the Gallup Poll says he is the choice of Democrats and independents for president in 1968.

Yet, Kennedy, who has made a bushel of statements on all kinds of issues since his election in 1964, has been consistent in saying he has no intention of being a candidate for anything in 1968.

This is the position he has repeatedly taken: that he supports President Johnson and Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey for renomination and reelection in 1968; that he intends to run for no office that year; that he plans only to run for reelection to the Senate in 1970; that he has no plans to seek the presidency in 1972; and that he has no intention of running for the vice presidency in 1968.

But if he campaigns for Democratic candidates around the country this fall — while Johnson is doing the same thing — both men and the country as a whole — will learn a lot about their standing with the people.

Despite all his disclaimers about presidential ambitions in 1968 Kennedy didn't seem to react happily to Richard M. Nixon's appraisal Tuesday of Kennedy's chance for the presidency two years from now.

The former vice president said Kennedy has small chance of bouncing Johnson out of the No. 1 spot for the Democratic nomination in 1968 but that Johnson might want Kennedy as his vice-presidential running mate, instead of Humphrey.

Kennedy, hearing of this, said "I've never observed that Mr. Nixon's advice was very helpful to the Republicans, let alone to the Democrats. I only hope my political career will survive Mr. Nixon's endorsement."

A nonsight into the upsurge in Kennedy popularity around the country can be gained from a couple of dates, about a month apart:

Last July 21 Kennedy said he would campaign for Gov. Edmund G. Brown in California and undertake some vote-seeking missions on behalf of Democrats in Oregon and Wisconsin as well.

But a spokesman for him said Kennedy expected to devote most of his campaign this fall to New York.

Tuesday his aides said he has a flood of invitations to speak for Democratic candidates outside New York and that so far he has definite commitments in California, Michigan, Illinois, Oregon, Montana and Maine with invitations to speak in Ohio, Colorado, West Virginia, Minnesota, New Hampshire, Indiana, Massachusetts and Florida.

Although Kennedy has operated as a kind of independent spirit, being careful never to get too closely identified with Johnson, he has since coming to the Senate last year taken very few direct pokes at the President.

But he must have been a pain to Johnson many times — for Kennedy talks a lot — with his fault-finding about some Johnson policies and his suggestions on how they should be made better.

Drug Smugglers Use Very Unusual Methods

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Customs Service reports it has uncovered some novel methods used by smugglers in attempts to get illegal drugs into the United States.

In announcing that it seized a record 5.97 tons of marijuana last fiscal year, up 17 per cent from the previous year, the service said illegal drugs have been brought into the country in upholstery, teddy bears, pillows and concealed in truck roofs.

The most unusual method it cited: concealing a half-ounce of heroin under the ice cream in a cone being eaten by a pedestrian as he crossed the U.S.-Mexican border.

Collegians Are Unhurt

LINCOLN, Neb. (AP) — The University of Nebraska has received word that the seven members of the university's mission at Ataturk University in Turkey escaped injury in last week's earthquake.

By James Marlow

said Kennedy has small chance of bouncing Johnson out of the No. 1 spot for the Democratic nomination in 1968 but that Johnson might want Kennedy as his vice-presidential running mate, instead of Humphrey.

Kennedy, hearing of this, said "I've never observed that Mr. Nixon's advice was very helpful to the Republicans, let alone to the Democrats. I only hope my political career will survive Mr. Nixon's endorsement."

A nonsight into the upsurge in Kennedy popularity around the country can be gained from a couple of dates, about a month apart:

Last July 21 Kennedy said he would campaign for Gov. Edmund G. Brown in California and undertake some vote-seeking missions on behalf of Democrats in Oregon and Wisconsin as well.

But a spokesman for him said Kennedy expected to devote most of his campaign this fall to New York.

Tuesday his aides said he has a flood of invitations to speak for Democratic candidates outside New York and that so far he has definite commitments in California, Michigan, Illinois, Oregon, Montana and Maine with invitations to speak in Ohio, Colorado, West Virginia, Minnesota, New Hampshire, Indiana, Massachusetts and Florida.

Although Kennedy has operated as a kind of independent spirit, being careful never to get too closely identified with Johnson, he has since coming to the Senate last year taken very few direct pokes at the President.

But he must have been a pain to Johnson many times — for Kennedy talks a lot — with his fault-finding about some Johnson policies and his suggestions on how they should be made better.

Tiger '11' Loses Veteran Guard

Circleville High School football prospects suffered a setback Tuesday when it was learned a promising candidate will not be available this season.

Chuck Stevens will be ineligible to compete. His family is moving to Indianapolis.

Tiger Coach Paul Starr had earlier hoped that Stevens could remain in Circleville, staying with friends of the family, and complete his senior year at CHS.

Starr said that although he had not been able to get a firm answer from the Ohio High School Athletic Assn. concerning Stevens' eligibility, it was his opinion the team would be taking too much of a chance by playing him.

ALTHOUGH the staff and the team are very disappointed, the veteran guard is hardest hit by the decision. He had hoped to attend the new Circleville High School and to finish his young grid career wearing the Tiger Red and Black.

Chuck said yesterday his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Stevens, were going to Indiana this weekend to look for a home. He plans to accompany them and to go out for the football team where they move.

Blisters and minor aches and pains are still the bane of the Tigers. Since practice sessions started, seldom have all the gridders been able to go at full speed.

In spite of these minor ailments, Starr reports spirit is real good for this time of year.

"They do get discouraged a little out there at practice because they think nobody in town knows how hard they are working," the Tiger coach noted.

At this point, with Stevens out of the lineup, the interior line of the Tigers is becoming quite inexperienced. Three other veteran linemen that Starr had been counting on will not be out this year.

One is now married, one reported out of condition and after the first two days dropped from the team and a third suffered an attack of rheumatic fever last winter.

Viking Grid Boss Stresses Importance of Conditioning

By STEVE JONES

Teays Valley football coach Marion Waits, greeted this summer with a turnout of less than 30 boys, is stressing conditioning in pre-season practice.

"Right now our condition is real good," Waits said. He has installed a few new innovations in his grid training program this year.

In addition to regular football maneuvers and condition drills, at the end of each practice session there is a weight lifting program designed to properly condition muscles used in the sport.

Waits is very conscious of the danger of heat prostration. During each practice session the team takes a break.

TO SEE that each player gets the necessary amount of salt in his system the Teays Valley coaching staff is providing an iced, salt drink which has a not too unpleasant citrus taste.

"It's not lemonade, but it is a more pleasant way to get the needed salt into the boys," Waits comments. He noted that in previous years he has always had trouble getting gridders to swallow salt tablets.

At the end of each practice session an orange drink is provided for the players. Fortunately the Vikings have had no injuries in practice sessions.

Working out with the Viking gridders this year is Dave Reese, a TV grad who now is a member of the Bowling Green University football team.

According to Waits, Reese has introduced some agility and conditioning drills used by the BG coaching staff. The Vikings have taken to them readily.

Spirit on the small but tough Viking squad is good. The TV mentor points out. And he gives a little of the credit for this good morale to Reese.

"WE LOOK for a better season this year," Waits says in summing up prospects for his charges. "However, the league is much tougher and our schedule this year is tougher," he adds.

Teays Valley, with less than 650 students in the four high school grades, is the smallest of the six Metro League members.

Whitehall, the largest with nearly 1,400 students in the upper three grades of high school, was a member of the rugged Central Buckeye League. The Rams have been rated a top grid power in the new loop.

Teams rounding out the league are Pleasant View, Franklin Heights, Reynoldsburg and Hamilton Twp.

Waits agrees with most coaches that Whitehall will be the team to beat in the league. While other mentors think Pleasant View will give the Rams some hefty competition, Waits favors Franklin Heights.

"That guy up there (Coach Bob LeBeau) has most of his guys back in spite of what he says," the Viking mentor noted. LeBeau claims the Falcons will be small and inexperienced with no returning offensive backfield lettermen.

THE VIKING mentor feels that Reynoldsburg, king of the Franklin County League last year will be tough again.

"We might be a little out of our class against Whitehall, Pleasant View and Franklin Heights," Coach Waits says.

But his firm conviction is that the Vikings will be there "to play football" this year.

Depth and size will be the main problems confronting Teays Valley.

Returning lettermen include Bruce Reese, a junior, at quarterback, and halfbacks Greg Hall and Tim Wells. Mike Lombardo, a tackle last year will be switched to offensive end.

Cliff Nutter is also returning at end. Tackles include Gene Neff and Randy Wilson.

Dan Vosbury is back at guard, Kenny Daft and Stanley Will return at linebackers and the middle guard is veteran Ben Vause.

ASSISTING Waits are Neil Whipkey, who was the 'frosh mentor last year, and Jim McCord. When school starts, McCord will take over as freshman coach.

Junior high coaches in the Teays Valley District will be Bob Hoover at Walnut, Charlie Baxter at Scioto and Lawrence Fullen at Ashville.

Here is the Teays Valley grid schedule:

Sept. 9 Walnut Ridge
Sept. 16 at Circleville
Sept. 23 at Logan Elm
Sept. 30 Hamilton Twp.

Oct. 7 at Pleasant View
Oct. 14 at Franklin Heights

Illinois '9' Wins

Legion Championship

ATHENS, Ohio (AP)—Northbrook, Ill., on Frank Battaglia's four-hitter, defeated Adrian, Mich., 2-0 Tuesday to win the Region 5 American Legion Baseball Championship.

The Illinois team advanced to the National American Legion Tournament beginning Sunday at Orangeburg, S. C.

Meeting Slated For Grid Parents

A special meeting will be held 8 p. m. Friday in the old Circleville High School building, S. Court St., for parents interested in the CHS and junior high football program.

Paul Starr, head football coach and his staff will demonstrate new football equipment and how it protects gridiron participants. A question and answer period will follow the demonstration.

A film "Mad, Mad Football" will be shown as part of the program.

The session is being sponsored by the CHS Booster Club.

Hamilton Keeps Unbeaten Mark

HAMILTON, Ohio (AP)—Ray Miller of Hamilton Schoenling gave up a single hit—a home run by Elmer Kanzevich—as the defending champions beat Youngstown, 8-3 Tuesday night in the unbeaten bracket-final of the State Fast Pitch Softball Tournament.

Miller, who pitched a perfect game Sunday night, struck out 13 batters. Harold Abner drove in three runs with a pair of doubles for Schoenling.

Columbus and Youngstown meet tonight, with the winner scheduled to play Hamilton Schoenling team. If Schoenling loses, another game will be played immediately afterwards to determine the winner of the rain-delayed double-elimination tournament.

Sammy Snead failed to qualify for the U. S. Open for the first time in 26 years this spring. He missed by one stroke.

Golf Finals Set At Lansdowne

Playoffs in the Upper Lansdowne Golf Links members tournament get under way 9 a. m. Saturday with the championship flight teeing off on the first 18 holes.

Winners of the flights are decided by 36-hole medal matches among the four surviving members of each division. Competition, to be played 18 holes at a time must be completed Sept. 3. Don Collins, course owner announced.

The trophy presentation will be held Sept. 4, preceded by a chicken barbecue-carryin picnic for members at 5 p. m.

The championship flight foursome is composed of Ron Leatherwood, Cloyce Smith, Joe Leatherwood and Ralph Bryant.

BON LEATHERWOOD won over Bill Snyder, 6 and 5, Smith won over Garner Cox in a sudden death extra hole playoff. Joe Leatherwood won over Gale Leatherwood by forfeit and Ralph Bryant drew a bye.

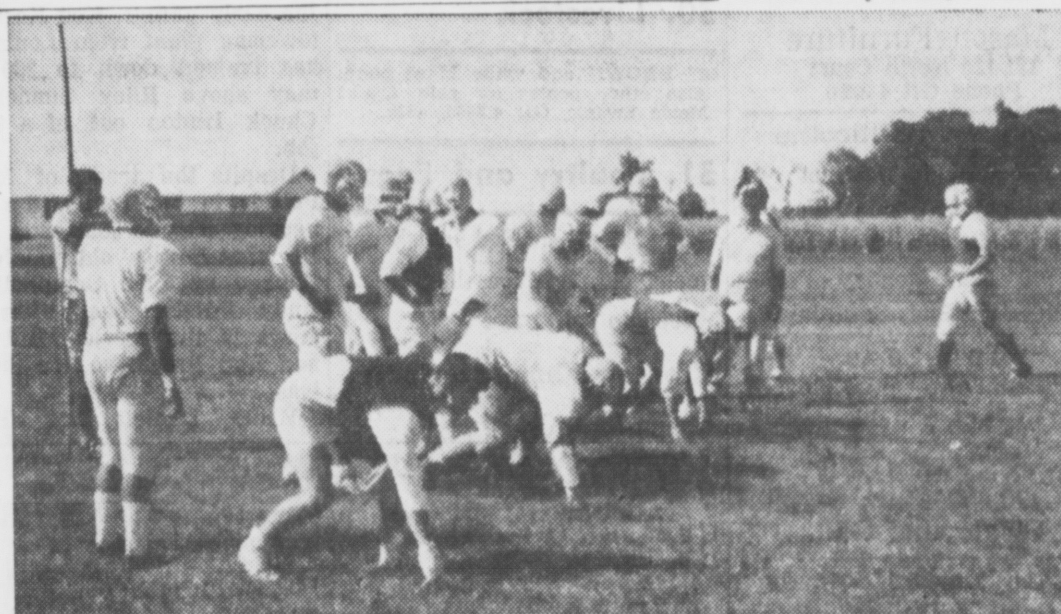

"A" flight pits Russ Gregg, Dick Buskirk, Paul Ott and Mike Neff. Gregg won over Dick Robbins, 1 up, Buskirk beat Mike Binion, 3 and 1, Ott defeated Ralph Amey, 4 up, Neff stopped Jerry Pritchard, 7 and 6.

In B Flight, Leonard Campbell, Russ Merrin, Dick Wellington and Jerry Kraus are the surviving foursome. Campbell topped Bob Farrar, 3 and 2, Merrin won over Jerry Neff in a sudden death playoff, Dick Wellington defeated Curt Hix, 5 and 3, and Kraus stopped Roy Binion, 5 and 4.

Finalists in C flight are Joe List, Harry Binns, Bob Welch and Chet Peters. List won 5 and 3 over Neil Leatherwood, Binns stopped Lee Roth 3 and 2, Welch downed Dave Amey in a sudden death finish and Peters won 2 up over Chuck Allison.

In D flight are Jack Lemon, Ralph Dunkel, George Weller and Kelly Leatherwood. Lemon downed Roger Gloyd 5 and 4, Dunkel won over Chuck Messick, 2 and 1, Weller trounced Danny Dick, 7 and 6, and Kelly Leatherwood downed Johnny Evans, 2 up.

GASSERS — Short sprints, referred to as gassers by gridders, are a part of every practice session at Teays Valley. Veteran Viking coach Marion Waits is stressing condition with his numerically small squad. The Vikings open Sept. 9 by hosting Walnut Ridge.

Steelers To Be Challenge To Coach

KINGSTON, R.I. AP) — Pittsburgh never has won the National Football League championship and this does not look like the year to end the famine.

If Bill Austin wanted a challenge in his first head coaching job, he found it in the Steelers. Pittsburgh is coming off a last place season with a 2-12 record.

This is a ball club that came apart at the seams was season after Buddy Parker quit two weeks before opening day and handed the reigns to Mike Nix.

Clay Awaits Decision by Draft Board

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — Cassius Clay's draft board says it's all right to leave the country for a title fight next month, but the heavyweight champion has no inkling of whether he'll eventually escape the military draft.

A four-hour hearing on Clay's appeal for an exemption brought the disclosure he's been a minister for two years in the Muslim religion he embraces — "preaching and converting people."

Clay came out of the hearing Tuesday and said it was "just like I was in a courtroom but there was no decision. When there is one, I'll be the first to hear."

Clay disclosed Tuesday that the draft board had given him permission to leave the country for his September fight with Karl Mildenberger in Frankfurt, Germany.

The champion was accompanied to Tuesday's hearing by his parents. He was carrying a copy of the Koran which "we Muslims believe are revelations made to Muhammad by Allah."

Miami Gridders Seek First Win

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Pro football history will be made tonight if the new Miami Dolphins of the American Football League win their first game ever by defeating the Denver Broncos at Memphis Tenn.

"The brand new babies" of the AFL, as part-owner Danny Thomas refers to the Dolphins, aren't expected to do so, however, even though the exhibition game pairs two winless teams.

The Broncos, beaten by Buffalo and Kansas City, still are regarded as stronger than the Dolphins, trounced by San Diego Kansas City and the New York Jets.

"We're not supposed to beat these teams yet," Thomas said. "The Dolphins need time to grow up. We're the brand new babies."

The game gets this week's exhibition schedule off to an early start since the Broncos play again on Sunday afternoon at home against Oakland in a nationally televised game over the NBC network.

A sellout crowd of more than 80,000 is expected to see the National Football League doubleheader at Cleveland Friday night.

Minnesota meets Washington in the first game with the Cleveland Browns taking on the Baltimore Colts in the second which will be televised over the CBS network.

Eight games are listed for Saturday five in the NFL and three in the AFL. The New York Giants and the Philadelphia Eagles play at Princeton N.J. Saturday afternoon. Saturday night Pittsburgh is at Green Bay St. Louis at Los Angeles Dallas and Detroit tangle at Tulsa and San Francisco meets Atlanta at Columbia S.C.

Houston is at Kansas City Boston at San Diego and Buffalo battles the New York Jets at Allentown, Pa., in the three AFL Saturday night exhibitions.

There were several deals Tuesday as clubs in both leagues cut down their rosters.

The Cleveland Browns traded fullback Charley Scales to Atlanta for a future draft choice, Dallas dealt guard Jake Kupp to Washington for a future draft choice. Green Bay sent halfback Ron Rector to Washington for a draft choice. San Francisco dealt guard Steve Barnett to Pittsburgh also for a draft choice.

Veteran tackle Roosevelt Brown was placed on the injured reserve list by the New York Giants of the NFL. The 34-year-old Brown will be out for the entire season because of phlebitis in his right leg.

WHEE! THREE!—First triple play in the history of the Minnesota Twins is the reason for this group picture in Minneapolis. The triple-players are (left to right) third baseman Rich Rollins, who started it; second baseman Cesar Tovar and first baseman Harmon Killebrew.

Boy, 19; Girl, 17, Win Trapshoot Championships

VANDALIA, Ohio (AP)—The Men's and Women's Class AA championships of the Class competition firing from 16 yards at the 67th Grand American Trapshoot belong to a youth age 19 and a girl just 17.

U.S. Army Pvt. Jim Beck won the Men's laurels Tuesday and in doing it won a shootout from two of trapshooting's best Dan Orlich of Reno, Nev., who was after his second title in two days—and Dale Bell of Kamiah, Idaho.

And Nancy Krebs, a high school senior from Ripon, Wis., won the Women's title and in the process the Junior Class AA crown for girls with her 199 of 200.

Beck of Omaha, Neb., stationed at Ft. Benning, Ga., and a member of the Army's trapshooting team, burst 200 straight clays along with Orlich and Bell, then broke 50 to the others' 49 apiece.

The North American Clay Targets Championship was today's feature, annually one of the top events at the Roaring Grand which climaxes Friday with the big one, the Grand American Handicap.

Including Miss Krebs' two, Wisconsin picked up four titles in the Class competition, which drew a record entry of 1,189, while Ohio had two winners.

Ted Bachhuber, Mayville, Wis., won Class A Men's honors with 199 and Ruby Jenner, Wau-paca, Wis., won among Class B Women with 196.

James Holtzhauer St. Marys, Minn., Class A Women, 196; Norman Nicolai, Sacramento, Calif., Class A Junior, 196; Robert Mazzolini, Wheaton, Md., Class B Junior, 194; Lillian Niederer, Titusville, N. J., Class C Women, 185; Louis Heyl, Pittsburgh, Pa., Class C Junior, 195; Robert I. Mitchell, Sturgis, Mich., Class D Men, 195; Doris Howe, Rock Falls Ill., Class D Women 194; Steve Hornbuckle, Newton, Kan., Class D Junior, 183, and P. James Smith, Lakewood, Colo., professional 199.

Class C Men, 196, and Edward L. Buckwalter, South Charleston, Class B Men, 188, were the Ohio titlists.

Other blue ribbon performers were Loral I. Delaney, Anoka, Minn., Class A Women, 196; Norman Nicolai, Sacramento, Calif., Class A Junior, 196; Robert Mazzolini, Wheaton, Md., Class B Junior, 194; Lillian Niederer, Titusville, N. J., Class C Women, 185; Louis Heyl, Pittsburgh, Pa., Class C Junior, 195; Robert I. Mitchell, Sturgis, Mich., Class D Men, 195; Doris Howe, Rock Falls Ill., Class D Women 194; Steve Hornbuckle, Newton, Kan., Class D Junior, 183, and P. Sudden Sam Ends Dry Spell, Hurls Victory

2-1 Decision Is Handed to Leading Orioles

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Dean Chance and Sam McDowell spent the last two months in something of a pitcher's limbo. Two of the top hurlers in the American League, they had managed three victories between them.

Then just as suddenly as they faded away the two pitchers reversed field and now they look like themselves again. James Bond might even have trouble with this mystery.

McDowell signaled the end of the dry spell with a three-hit shutout against Chicago last Friday. Then the Cleveland left-hander came back with a 2-1 six-hitter against American League-leading Baltimore Tuesday night.

Not to be outdone Chance fired a three-hitter as California shaded New York 1-0.

Rocky Colavito's 28th home run proved to be the winning run for McDowell who had the Orioles shut out until the eighth inning.

"I'm slowly getting my control back," said McDowell, who suffered with arm trouble after winning four games before the season was a month old. "I'm slowly getting my control back but my coordination's still off."

Chance, 9-15, managed to smile through his trouble. "I'll be a candidate for Comeback of the Year," the Angel right-hander said, "next year."

Meanwhile, Jim Kaat, who has flourished despite the demise of the defending champion Minnesota Twins, won his 19th with a five-hitter against Washington, beating the Senators 7-0 in the first game of a two-night doubleheader. Washington won the nightcap 4-3.

Elsewhere, Chicago edged Detroit 2-1 in 12 innings with Gary Peters going all the way and Kansas City's doubleheader at Boston was postponed by rain.

In the National League, Philadelphia nipped Pittsburgh 5-4. St. Louis blanked Houston 3-0. San Francisco whipped Cincinnati 7-3. Los Angeles defeated Atlanta 8-7 and New York downed Chicago 4-1.

McDowell struck out 10 and hurled his sixth complete game. His first five route-going efforts were all shutouts. He had the Orioles blanked until Frank Robinson's two-out single delivered a run in the eighth.

Royal Adios Wins Feature at Scioto

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Royal Adios continued his winning ways at Scioto Downs Tuesday night, posting his best mile ever, 2:04 3-5, in the $1,500 feature race before an open house crowd of 7,037 who bet $222,471 over-all.

Brad Farrington drove the 4-year-old chestnut gelding owned by James Grabill to the come-from behind victory, paying $6.60, $3.20, $2.40. Susie Goose III, Class D Women 194; Steve Hornbuckle, Newton, Kan., Class D Junior, 183, and P. James Smith, Lakewood, Colo., professional 199.

Clay Awaits Decision by Draft Board

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — Cassius Clay's draft board says it's all right to leave the country for a title fight next month, but the heavyweight champion has no inkling of whether he'll eventually escape the military draft.

A four-hour hearing on Clay's appeal for an exemption brought the disclosure he's been a minister for two years in the Muslim religion he embraces — "preaching and converting people."

Clay came out of the hearing Tuesday and said it was "just like I was in a courtroom but there was no decision. When there is one, I'll be the first to hear."

Clay disclosed Tuesday that the draft board had given him permission to leave the country for his September fight with Karl Mildenberger in Frankfurt, Germany.

The champion was accompanied to Tuesday's hearing by his parents. He was carrying a copy of the Koran which, "we Muslims believe are revelations made to Muhammad by Allah."

Miami Gridders Seek First Win

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Pro football history will be made tonight if the new Miami Dolphins of the American Football League win their first game ever by defeating the Denver Broncos at Memphis Tenn.

"The brand new babies" of the AFL, as part-owner Danny Thomas refers to the Dolphins, aren't expected to do so, however, even though the exhibition game pairs two winless teams.

The Broncos, beaten by Buffalo and Kansas City, still are regarded as stronger than the Dolphins, trounced by San Diego Kansas City and the New York Jets.

"We're not supposed to beat these teams yet" Thomas said. "The Dolphins need time to grow up. We're the brand new babies."

The game gets this week's exhibition schedule off to an early start since the Broncos play again on Sunday afternoon at home against Oakland in a nationally televised game over the NBC network.

A sellout crowd of more than 80,000 is expected to see the National Football League doubleheader at Cleveland Friday night.

Minnesota meets Washington in the first game with the Cleveland Browns taking on the Baltimore Colts in the second which will be televised over the CBS network.

Eight games are listed for Saturday five in the NFL and three in the AFL. The New York Giants and the Philadelphia Eagles play at Princeton N.J. Saturday afternoon. Saturday night Pittsburgh is at Green Bay St. Louis at Los Angeles Dallas and Detroit tangle at Tulsa and San Francisco meets Atlanta at Columbia S.C.

Houston is at Kansas City Boston at San Diego and Buffalo battles the New York Jets at Allentown, Pa., in the three AFL Saturday night exhibitions.

There were several deals Tuesday as clubs in both leagues cut down their rosters.

The Cleveland Browns traded fullback Charley Scales to Atlanta for a future draft choice, Dallas dealt guard Jake Kupp to Washington for a future draft choice. Green Bay sent halfback Ron Rector to Washington for a draft choice. San Francisco dealt guard Steve Barnett to Pittsburgh also for a draft choice.

Veteran tackle Roosevelt Brown was placed on the injured reserve list by the New York Giants of the NFL. The 34-year-old Brown will be out for the entire season because of phlebitis in his right leg.

WHEEL THREE!—First triple play in the history of the Minnesota Twins is the reason for this group picture in Minneapolis. The triple-players are (left to right) third baseman Rich Rollins, who started it; second baseman Cesar Tovar and first baseman Harmon Killebrew.

Boy, 19; Girl, 17, Win Trapshoot Championships

VANDALIA, Ohio (AP)—The Men's and Women's Class AA championships of the Class competition firing from 16 yards at the 67th Grand American Trapshoot belong to a youth age 19 and a girl just 17.

U.S. Army Pvt. Jim Beck won the Men's laurels Tuesday and in doing it won a shootout from two of trapshooting's best Dan Orlich of Reno, Nev., who was after his second title in two days—and Dale Bell of Kamiah, Idaho.

And Nancy Krebs, a high school senior from Ripon, Wis., won the Women's title and in the process the Junior Class AA crown for girls with her 199 of 200.

Beck of Omaha, Neb., stationed at Ft. Benning, Ga., and a member of the Army's trapshooting team, burst 200 straight clays along with Orlich and Bell, then broke 50 to the others' 49 apiece.

The North American Clay Targets Championship was today's feature, annually one of the top events at the Roaring Grand which climaxes Friday with the big one, the Grand American Handicap.

Including Miss Krebs' two, Wisconsin picked up four titles in the Class competition, which drew a record entry of 1,189, while Ohio had two winners.

Ted Bachhuber, Mayville, Wis., won Class A Men's honors with 199 and Ruby Jenner, Wau-paca, Wis., won among Class B Women with 196.

Women Swell Fishing Ranks

MONTAUK POINT, N.Y. (AP) — Women, bless their little pink bait buckets and their cute cerise tackle boxes, have discovered fishing.

One of the last remaining bastions of masculine dominance apparently is crumbling before the gentle onslaught of American women, based on the most recent U.S. Department of Interior fishing survey.

Figures show that 27 per cent of the estimated 30 million anglers are women.

With no way of checking on the number of children below the age of 12 who can fish without a license, it means that possibly as many as 8 million of the total number of fishermen are not adult males. The previous figure was 6 million.

Sudden Sam Ends Dry Spell, Hurls Victory

2-1 Decision Is Handed to Leading Orioles

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Dean Chance and Sam McDowell spent the last two months in something of a pitcher's limbo. Two of the top hurlers in the American League, they had managed three victories between them.

Then just as suddenly as they faded away the two pitchers reversed field and now they look like themselves again. James Bond might even have trouble with this mystery.

McDowell signaled the end of the dry spell with a three-hit shutout against Chicago last Friday. Then the Cleveland left-hander came back with a 2-1 six-hitter against American League-leading Baltimore Tuesday night.

Not to be outdone Chance fired a three-hitter as California shaded New York 1-0.

Rocky Colavito's 28th home run proved to be the winning run for McDowell who had the Orioles shut out until the eighth inning.

"I'm slowly getting my control back," said McDowell, who suffered with arm trouble after winning four games before the season was a month old. "I'm slowly getting my control back but my coordination's still off."

Chance, 9-15, managed to smile through his trouble. "I'll be a candidate for Comeback of the Year," the Angel right-hander said, "next year."

Meanwhile, Jim Kaat, who has flourished despite the demise of the defending champion Minnesota Twins, won his 19th with a five-hitter against Washington, beating the Senators 7-0 in the first game of a two-night doubleheader. Washington won the nightcap 4-3.

Registration Set At OU Branch

Orientation and registration for all freshmen entering Ohio University's Chillicothe Branch has been scheduled for Saturday.

New students have been assigned to one of seven sessions throughout the day. They are to report to room 113 in Chillicothe High School and bring with them trial schedules, social security numbers and tuition fees.

Office hours for consultation are 8 a. m. to 4:30 p. m. Monday through Friday and from 6:30 to 8 Wednesday evening.

Three Receive Emergency Care

Three persons were on Berger Hospital's emergency treatment list for Tuesday. All were released.

Johnathan Stewart, 4, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Stewart, 122 1/2 S. Court St., was treated after he lacerated his left hand on a fence at Ted Lewis Park.

Myrna Gregory, 19, of 124 1/2 Watt St., slipped on a step and injured her left foot.

Mike Moorehead, 14, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Moorehead, Route 4, Stoutsville, received treatment after he burned his right hand on a skillet at home.

Kindergarten Schedules Listed

Superintendent Fritz Jacobs reminded parents today that kindergarten students will not begin classes until Sept. 7, although all other grades will begin Sept. 6.

Morning classes of kindergarten students will meet from 8:45 a. m. until 11:15 p. m. Afternoon sessions will be from 12:15 to 2:45 p. m.

Picket Ban Is OK'd

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House has passed 249 to 44 a bill making it unlawful to picket within 500 feet of a church here during the two hours before or after a service.

BREAD RISING—A House Agriculture subcommittee investigating rising bread prices had figures that divided the 21.8 cents average price like this. The committee concluded, however, that nobody in the business is making an unconscionable profit on the staff of life.

School Bells Produce Cash Register Jingle

NEW YORK (AP) — School bells are ringing bells on cash registers for the nation's merchants.

The back-to-school crowd pays more than $3 billion each year for Batman lunch boxes, Beatles writing tablets, plumb hipster skirts, the longest dipping all the way down to the top of the knee; white texture hose, long dazzling earrings, honey-hued corduroy jeans, red stretch tights, plaid school bags and fake fur hosiery.

It's the biggest thing next to Christmas for the stores.

Take a look at a few school girl figures:

Eugene Gilbert Youth Research, in a study for Seventeen magazine, sampled 5.8 million high school girls last year and another 618,000 who were off for their first year of college.

The college girls spent a total of $289,277,000, an average of $468.07 each, the survey indicated. The high school girls averaged $231.17 each, a total of $1,340,822,000 getting ready for school.

The survey estimated the girls bought more than 33 million pairs of shoes, sneakers, sandals, slippers and boots, 27.5 million blouses, 22 million skirts, 3 million dresses and 8 million sweaters, along with 3 million coats.

The Boys' Apparel Buyers' Association, Inc., estimates boys 6 to 18 spend $510 million to $575 million each August and September on clothing.

This year indications are the figures will be even larger — there are more teen-agers and some prices are higher.

That is why discount stores and fashion houses are sending out back-to-school catalogs, putting kooky clothes in display windows and spending thousands of dollars on fashion shows.

"It's a time of major expenditure," said Melvin E. Dawley, president of Lord Taylor, New York.

Dawley estimated that the back-to-school and Christmas sales combined accounted for half of the year's business in children's departments, with Christmas sales about 25 per cent larger.

In Philadelphia, retailers are promoting tape recorders for class note-taking. A Chicago department store suggests a black and white mod room with vinyl pillows for studying. Denver stores report a brisk business in pots for boiling water for coffee or tea. Hair dryers are promoted as back-to-school items in Cleveland.

A Southern California chain is advertising bookcases, beds, desks, bedspreads, lamps and related items, and a St. Louis store is advertising student desks and chairs.

Two Promoted to Foreman At Du Pont R&D Laboratory

JAMES MARSHALL

ROBERT AZBELL

Two employees have been promoted to foreman posts at Du Pont's Circleville Research and Development Laboratory.

Assuming their new duties this month were Robert F. Azbell of Adelphi and James K. Marshall, 193 Nicholas Drive.

Azbell joined Du Pont in 1954 as an area operator and technician and technical assistant in the research lab. He is graduate of Kingston High School.

The new foreman and his wife, Audrey, have three children, Susan, 10, Debra Kay, 8, and Stephen, 1.

Marshall, a graduate of Circleville High School, started with Du Pont in 1959. He served as an area operator and technician in the plant.

His promotion designates him a foreman in the physical testing laboratory.

The foreman and his wife, Ruth Ann, have four children. They are Victoria, 10, Daniel, 8, David, 6, and Mary Kay, 4.

R. E. LUNDBERG

Lundberg Assigned to Local Plant

Ronald E. Lundberg has been assigned to Du Pont's Circleville film installation as a research engineer.

Lundberg was transferred here from the Yerkes plant research division at Buffalo, N. Y. His duties here are with the "Mylar" process section.

He became affiliated with Du Pont in 1955, starting in the engineering department at Wilmington, Dela. He also served in the consultant section there.

Later assignments included engineering positions with the technical section in the company's plant at Niagara Falls and the Mechanical Development Laboratory in Wilmington.

LUNDBERG is a graduate of the University of Illinois where he was awarded a bachelor degree in mechanical engineering. He currently is working toward a masters degree in business education from the University of Buffalo.

He served with the U.S. Army for two years during the Korean conflict. He is a member of the American Vacuum Society, a professional group.

The research engineer and his wife, Mary, live at 339 Meadow Lane. They have four children, Gregory, 8, Karen, 5, and twins Mark and Michael 3.

Mother of 3 Leaves for Eye Surgery

CLEVELAND (AP) — Mrs. Joseph Jones of East Cleveland is leaving her husband and three children Tuesday so that she may see them again.

She is flying from Cleveland to St. Louis, Mo., where she is scheduled to undergo an eye operation that doctors believe may restore the sight of one of her eyes.

Then she could once again see her husband, and children, Angela, 3, Joseph Jr., 2, and Eric, 9 months.

The 19-year-old mother has had three previous eye operations here. So far, doctors have been unable to correct the separation of the retina from a coating on the eye.

The defect steadily grew worse until several weeks ago when Mrs. Jones became totally blind in both eyes.

Doctors here agreed that sight in her right eye might be restored if she should seek the immediate help of a St. Louis specialist. The specialist, who asked to remain anonymous, is donating his services.

The Cleveland Society for the Blind will pay for Mrs. Jones' hospitalization for about 10 days from a special fund. It was unable to pay the $78.86 round-trip plane fare. The Cleveland Plain Dealer will pay the fare with money from its Our Town fund.

Volunteer workers from Volunteers in Service to America (VISTA), the domestic Peace Corps, will babysit for the children, and Jones will continue working here until his wife is able to return.

Shoemaker To Promote Yearly Meets

Myrl H. Shoemaker, Democratic candidate for the newly created 21st Legislative District and current Ross County state representative, announced today that he will propose annual meetings of the General Assembly instead of the one session every two years.

Shoemaker says he plans to offer a constitutional amendment in the next session of the legislature. If adopted approved by the electorate it would result in the annual sessions.

He said, "To continue to operate the complex business of state government with the legislature meeting biennially seems to me to be outdated, unsatisfactory and unsound. Under the present system periods of 18 months transpire during which there is little or no chance for fiscal or legislative review of our many areas of responsibility."

"The continuation of the present policy," he continued, "must be considered grossly unfair to everyone of us and it is time that we place in action the machinery that will give the legislature an the citizens of Ohio an opportunity to determine whether annual sessions of the General Assembly will be in their best interest."

Elyria Woman Held In Husband's Death

ELYRIA, Ohio (AP) — Leonard Avery of Elyria was shot fatally at his home Tuesday night. Police were questioning his wife.

Lorain County Coroner Paul J. Kopsch said Avery, 50, died of gunshot wounds in the chest.

GALLSTONES

Q. X-ray examination recently showed that I have a gallstone but I have little or no discomfort. Would it be best to have surgery now? The stone may never give me trouble.
A. What does your doctor recommend? His opinion should determine your course of action. In general, about 30 per cent of patients who have "silent" gallstones and who are not operated upon, ultimately develop complications or such severe symptoms that surgery becomes necessary. Thus, delaying surgery imposes risk — especially for a person who is in good physical condition (and thus better able to withstand surgery) when the trouble is discovered.

FLEAS' FAVORITES

Q. Is there something in the blood of some people that attracts sand fleas? I am bitten when I get near one—my wife never is.
A. It's true that there is something about certain people which seems to make them especially attractive to fleas and other insects. The cause of this attraction is not known, but may reside in some aromatic principle emanated from the skin.

Remember — the diagnosis and treatment of disease is the function of the patient's personal physician.

In terms of health benefits, prescribed medicine is the biggest bargain for the money.

R. E. LUNDBERG

Lundberg Assigned to Local Plant

Ronald E. Lundberg has been assigned to Du Pont's Circleville film installation as a research engineer.

Lundberg was transferred here from the Yerkes plant research division at Buffalo, N. Y. His duties here are with the "Mylar" process section.

He became affiliated with Du Pont in 1953, starting in the engineering department at Wilmington, Del. He also served in the consultant section there.

Later assignments included engineering positions with the technical section in the company's plant at Niagara Falls and the Mechanical Development Laboratory in Wilmington.

LUNDBERG is a graduate of the University of Illinois where he was awarded a bachelor degree in mechanical engineering. He currently is working toward a masters degree in business education from the University of Buffalo.

He served with the U.S. Army for two years during the Korean conflict. He is a member of the American Vacuum Society, a professional group.

The research engineer and his wife, Mary, live at 339 Meadow Lane. They have four children, Gregory, 8, Karen, 5, and twins Mark and Michael 3.

Mother of 3 Leaves for Eye Surgery

CLEVELAND (AP) — Mrs. Joseph Jones of East Cleveland is leaving her husband and three children Tuesday so that she may see them again.

She is flying from Cleveland to St. Louis, Mo., where she is scheduled to undergo an eye operation that doctors believe may restore the sight of one of her eyes.

Then she could once again see her husband and children, Angela, 3, Joseph Jr., 2, and Eric, 9 months.

The 19-year-old mother has had three previous eye operations here. So far, doctors have been unable to correct the separation of the retina from a coating on the eye.

The defect steadily grew worse until several weeks ago when Mrs. Jones became totally blind in both eyes.

Doctors here agreed that sight in her right eye might be restored if she should seek the immediate help of a St. Louis specialist. The specialist, who asked to remain anonymous, is donating his services.

The Cleveland Society for the Blind will pay for Mrs. Jones' hospitalization for about 10 days from a special fund. It was unable to pay the $78.86 round-trip plane fare. The Cleveland Plain Dealer will pay the fare fund.

Volunteer workers from Volunteers in Service to America (VISTA), the domestic Peace Corps, will babysit for the children, and Jones will continue working here until his wife is able to return.

Registration Set At OU Branch

Orientation and registration for all freshmen entering Ohio University's Chillicothe Branch has been scheduled for Saturday.

New students have been assigned to one of seven sessions throughout the day. They are to report to room 113 in Chillicothe High School and bring with them trial schedules, social security numbers and tuition fees.

Office hours for consultation are 8 a. m. to 4:30 p. m. Monday through Friday and from 6:30 to 8 Wednesday evening.

Three Receive Emergency Care

Three persons were on Berger Hospital's emergency treatment list for Tuesday. All were released.

Johnathan Stewart, 4, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Stewart, 122½ S. Court St., was treated after he lacerated his left hand on a fence at Ted Lewis Park.

Myrna Gregory, 19, of 124½ Watt St., slipped on a step and injured her left foot.

Mike Moorehead, 14, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Moorehead, Route 4, Stoutsville, received treatment after he burned his right hand on a skillet at home.

Kindergarten Schedules Listed

Superintendent Fritz Jacobs reminded parents today that kindergarten students will not begin classes until Sept. 7, although all other grades will begin Sept. 6.

Morning classes of kindergarten students will meet from 8:45 a. m. until 11:15 p. m. Afternoon sessions will be from 12:15 to 2:45 p. m.

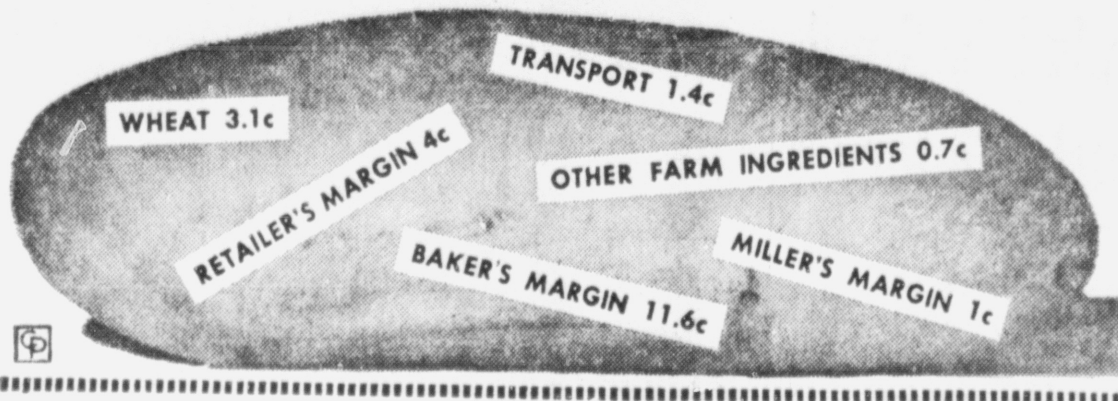

Santa Fe Chuckles At Kent State Boner

SANTA FE, N.M. (AP) — The New Mexican in Santa Fe received a press release recently from Kent State University in Ohio listing four foreign students in its summer graduation class.

One was identified as John R. Murphy of Santa Fe.

Picket Ban Is OK'd

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House has passed 249 to 44 a bill making it unlawful to picket within 500 feet of a church here during the two hours before or after a service.

BREAD RISING—A House Agriculture subcommittee investigating rising bread prices had figures that divided the 21.8 cents average price like this. The committee concluded, however, that nobody in the business is making an unconscionable profit on the staff of life.

School Bells Produce Cash Register Jingle

NEW YORK (AP) — School bells are ringing bells on cash registers for the nation's merchants.

The back-to-school crowd pays more than $3 billion each year for Batman lunch boxes, Beatles writing tablets, plumb hipster skirts, the longest dipping all the way down to the top of the knee; white texture hose, long dazzling earrings, honey-hued corduroy jeans, red stretch tights, plaid school bags and fake fur hassoocks.

It's the biggest thing next to Christmas for the stores.

Take a look at a few school girl figures:

Eugene Gilbert Youth Research, in a study for Seventeen magazine, sampled 5.8 million high school girls last year and another 618,000 who were off for their first year of college.

The college girls spent a total of $289,277,000, an average of $468.07 each, the survey indicated. The high school girls averaged $231.17 each, a total of $1,340,822,000 getting ready for school.

The survey estimated the girls bought more than 33 million pairs of shoes, sneakers, sandals, slippers and boots, 27.5 million blouses, 22 million skirts, 3 million dresses and 8 million sweaters, along with 3 million coats.

The Boys' Apparel Buyers' Association, Inc., estimates boys 6 to 18 spend $510 million to $575 million each August and September on clothing.

This year indications are the figures will be even larger — there are more teen-agers and some prices are higher.

That is why discount stores and fashion houses are sending out back-to-school catalogs, putting kooky clothes in display windows and spending thousands of dollars on fashion shows.

"It's a time of major expenditure," said Melvin E. Dawley, president of Lord Taylor, New York.

Dawley estimated that the back-to-school and Christmas sales combined accounted for half of the year's business in children's departments, with Christmas sales about 25 per cent larger.

In Philadelphia, retailers are promoting tape recorders for class note-taking. A Chicago department store suggests a black and white mod room with vinyl pillows for studying. Denver stores report a brisk business in pots for boiling water for coffee or tea. Hair dryers are promoted as back-to-school items in Cleveland.

A Southern California chain is advertising bookcases, beds, desks, bedspreads, lamps and related items, and a St. Louis store is advertising student desks and chairs.

FLEAS' FAVORITES

Q. Is there something in the blood of some people that attracts and fleas? I am bitten when I get near one—my wife never is.

A. It's true that there is something about certain people which seems to make them especially attractive to fleas and other insects. The cause of this attraction is not known, but may reside in some aromatic principle emanated from the skin.
